EDITOR'S NOTE

A SINGLE FACE caught in a moment of study in the library: Evelyn Sanders, classics major, McMicken College of Arts and Sciences is at home with the almost 700,000 volumes of the University Library.

COLLEGE IS A SERIES OF CROWDS WITH MANY FACES REFLECTING A HUNDRED EMOTIONS; THOUSANDS CHEER AND CRY TOGETHER.

One in 7,600 finds himself a part of the sea of faces.

THE FACE of the university is her people, for a structure is void without life. To the University of Cincinnati, largest municipal institution in the United States, come aspiring young men and women from multifarious walks of life. From some forty-three states of the nation, the Far East, Middle East, Europe, South America, and U. S. territories come people of every race and creed. They — each person remaining an individual — arrive collectively at the University to form the student body; they are intent on enriching their lives by working with one another in classrooms and campus activities.

To the individual collegian, life at a university is an eclectic experience — the meeting and sharing of new ways to live. The intricate design of an individual personality is woven into the emotional tapestry of a college campus.

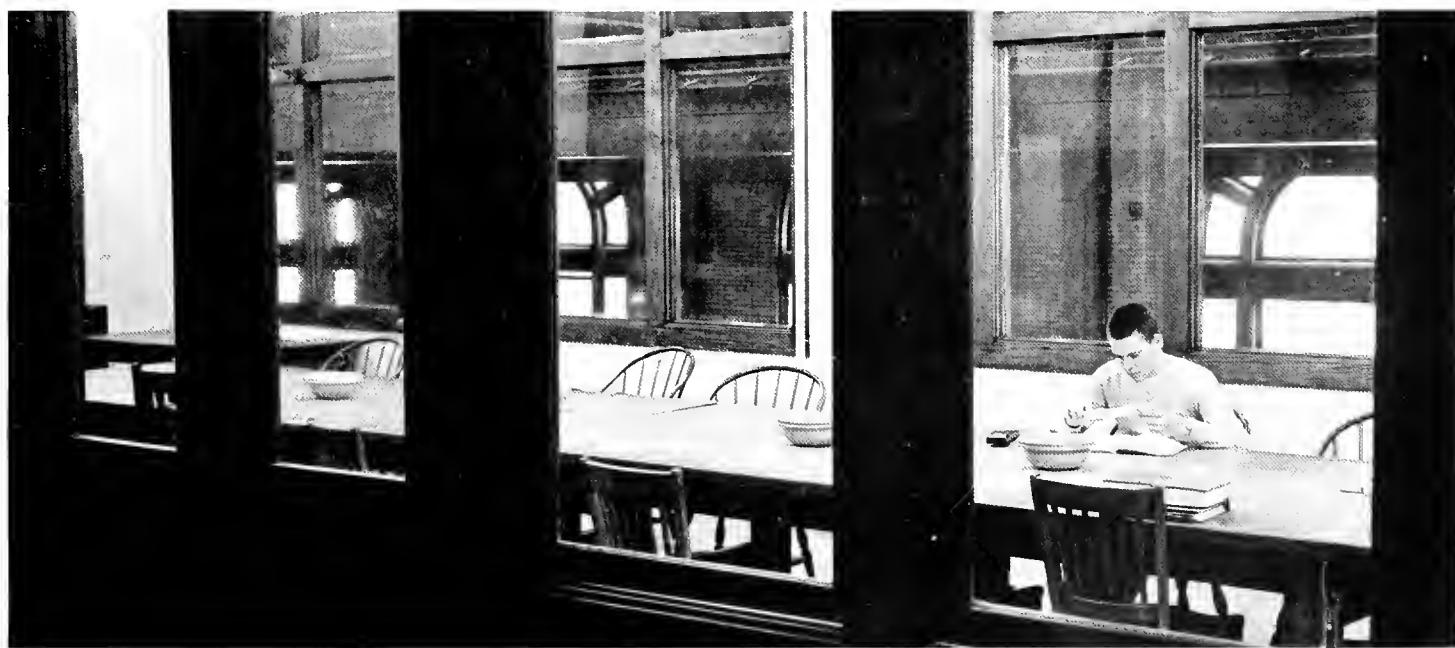

Day and evening, 15,000 learn together, learn alone.

The horizons of learning are wide and many sided. Class size varies from 200 to a single man or woman engrossed in individual study or research. The thirteen colleges of the University of Cincinnati stretch from Alms on the northern end of campus to Alphonso Taft Hall on the southern extremity. The co-operative colleges: Applied Arts, Business Administration, and Engineering offer a unique curriculum of alternating school with work. The five semester colleges: McMicken College of Arts and Sciences, College of Home Economics, College of Nursing and Health, College of Pharmacy, and Teachers College constitute the traditional form of education. The graduate colleges of Medicine and Law are oldest of their types west of the Alleghenies. A third graduate college is the Graduate School of Arts and Sciences. Summer School and Evening College, one of the six largest in the United States and one half the total population of UC, complete the academic family of thirteen colleges within the University.

Affiliated institutions are the Art Academy of Cincinnati, Cincinnati College-Conservatory of Music and Hebrew Union College. The academic scope of this twenty-third largest university in the country is unparalleled in like cities.

Demonstration aided by experience—clearcut learning.

A nurse on rounds of the ward, the civil engineer on a construction job, the architect leaning over his boards in a city office, the geology major on a week-end field trip — these are symbols of diverse methods of learning.

Called the outstanding contribution to higher education of the twentieth century, the University's program of co-operative education, originated in 1906 by the late Dean Schneider is the epitome of learning by demonstration.

BUILT IN the autumn of 1955, the modern gatehouse is an impressive entrance to the University of Cincinnati.

Because of its inherent diversity of character the face of the University can not be captured in a portrait of a single building. Torn from the whole picture, the Georgian McMicken is out of key with the contemporary Alms Memorial or the classic columned Van Wormer Library, now the administration building. Turrets and towers are outlined beside sleek walls of glass and steel and brick. Transition is the architectural theme.

THE COLLEGE of Pharmacy will have added classroom facilities in the addition to Teachers College.

LOWER CAMPUS centers in the engineering quadrangle renamed in honor of Dean Herman Schneider in 1956 Co-op anniversary.

CENTER of the University campus, the Union is the meeting and eating place of students and faculty.

The idea was born in 1819. The citizens of Cincinnati boasted of a new Cincinnati College and Medical School. Law School was founded in 1833.

These seeds of a municipal university were nurtured by Charles McMicken, pioneer Cincinnati merchant who left to the city his holdings in Louisiana to found such an institution. Though Louisiana refused to honor McMicken's bequest, his dream provided the impetus leading to its reality in 1870.

MOST RECENTLY COMPLETED ADDITION TO THE UNIVERSITY'S HOST OF BUILDING IS THE ARMORY FIELDHOUSE WHICH SEATS 7000.

From its humble beginning of two units on the McMicken estate in 1870 when Cincinnati College became a university under the municipal act of the State of Ohio, the University of Cincinnati has grown into the largest municipal university in the country.

Now, almost 140 years later, UC spreads over a vast 110 acreage in the center of metropolitan Cincinnati. Its 34 buildings, soon to expand, are of many architectural periods and styles.

Wisdom is the primary thing. But as we look back we cannot fail to recall the personalities and events that cemented this year firmly in the annals of memory, the mortar that secured the stones of knowledge. In the words from the Herman Schneider Memorial, we were "joining theory and practice, linking education and industry through knowledge and experience."

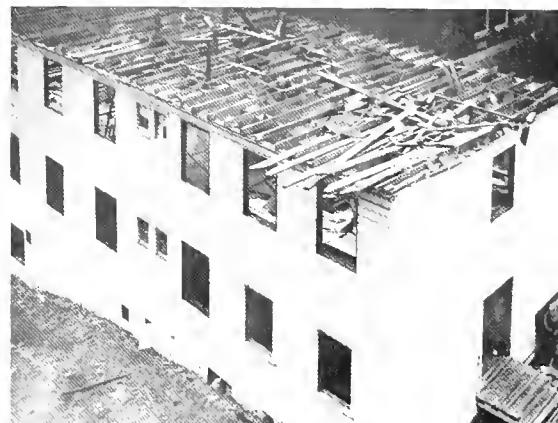

THE STRUCTURE IS UNUSUAL IN THAT THE WALLS DO NOT HOLD ANY WEIGHT; ITS COLUMNS ARE THE ONLY MEANS OF SUPPORT.

FIRST stages of construction were begun in the spring of 1956.

SPRING of '57 finds the building beginning to assume its final beauty and symmetry; the completion is in sight.

APPLIED ARTS students have had classes in approximately nine buildings on campus and, following the demolition of the barracks, class sites included the fourth floor of Wilson Auditorium and underneath Nippert Stadium. However, sometime in the fall of 1957, the College of Applied Arts will gather its scattered classes under one roof: the addition to the Frederick H. and Eleanora C. U. Alms Memorial Building is nearing completion.

The fully equipped $1,160,000 structure, the most contemporary style building on campus, was designed by James E. Allan, Cincinnati architect. Classrooms will be arranged according to option with the Industrial students, together with the shop and ceramics departments, on the ground floor; Advertising, Costume, and Interior on the first; Architecture on the second; and the Art department, including the drawing and painting classes, on the third. Offices will be situated on the first floor. The Applied Arts Library will be moved to its intended place on the third floor of the existing building.

THE BARRACKS, relics of WW II, were wrecked to make way for a new building: the proposed six-story wing to connect the Biology-Pharmacy, TC buildings.

HARASSED name-card checkers plow through files for identification numbers as the student pauses, seeing another line ahead of her.

Orientation, registration fill first week of college.

THE FIRST few days of school for the newly-formed class proved that stamina was necessary to endure the confusion. Endless lines, class schedules, and many cards composed the fatiguing hours for the enthusiastic but weary freshmen meeting the beginning pace. Busy upperclassmen sensed the presence of the students-to-be who were milling everywhere, yet never quite certain as to their whereabouts on campus.

President Langsam formally opened orientation at the Student Council convocation. Orientation Board greeted the newcomers with Freshman Camp and a mixer in the Student Union; Junior Advisers and the Men's Advisory System assisted through campus tours, fellowship, and programs on study problems and UC traditions. AWS presented a convocation and teas in the new co-eds' honor, and the students were off in a whirlwind of activities and study.

A realization of newness—faces, outlooks, problems, and responsibilities—confronted the incoming students through their first glimpses of UC.

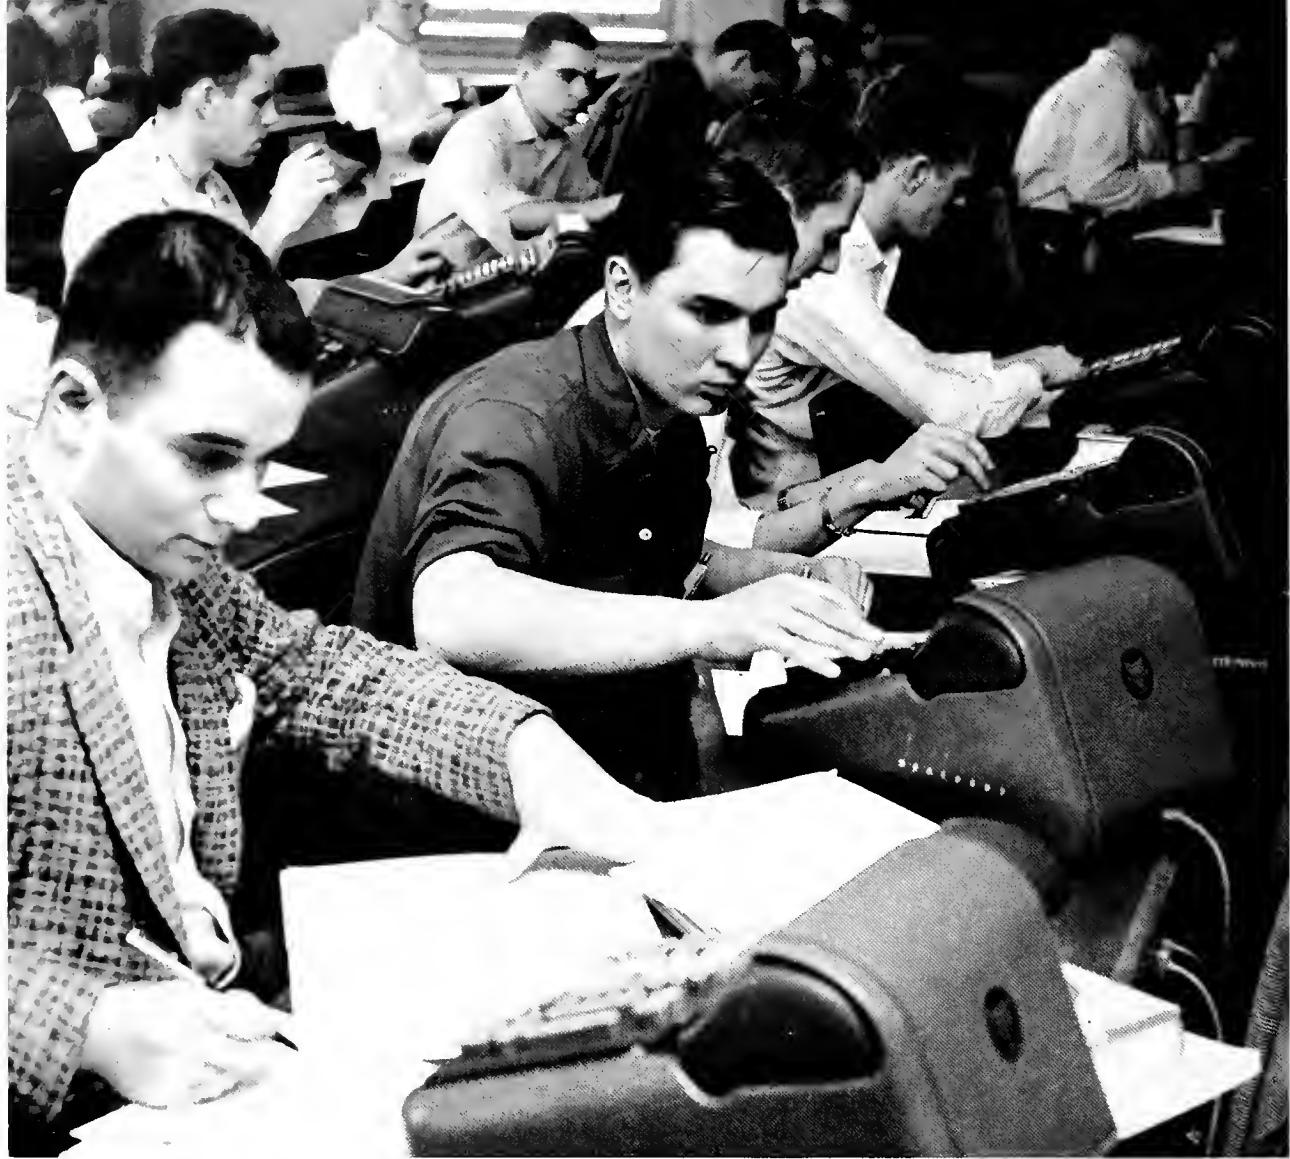

STUDENTS, fussing about having to stand in line to pay money, happily see registration nearing an end.

CONTRARY to the popular belief, this is not a "candy college"; just ask any Bus Ad student about his accounting and statistics labs!

The College of Business Administration works under the co-operative system and offers a variety of programs. The five-year course for men and women allows students to elect the Accounting, Marketing, or General Management Program in the upper years. Women students may take a five-year Secretarial Program or a two-year course which gives a certificate in Business Administration. All students acquire a general background of social and science subjects.

Engineers gain experience under co-operative system.

THEORETICALLY it may be said that the College of Engineering is six schools in one, for each option—aeronautical, chemical, civil, electrical, mechanical, metallurgical—is a unit in itself.

The first college on campus to use the co-operative plan of education, the College and its approximate enrollment of 1,300 co-operate with about 150 firms in contrast with its 1906 co-op enrollment of 27 and co-op arrangements with 15 firms.

UC Pharmacy College is the oldest west of Alleghenies.

THE COLLEGE of Pharmacy, originally situated in the Cincinnati downtown area, was the first college of its kind to be established west of the Allegheny Mountains. Although the College was not an integral part of the campus until September of 1954, it became affiliated with the University in 1951. In 1955 the American Council on Pharmaceutical Education gave the College a Class A rating.

Students in Pharmacy can prepare for professions in numerous pharmaceutical fields, including an opportunity to become owners in their own business through retail pharmacy. Drugstore work is valuable experience for students and is a requirement in addition to the Pharmacy degree for licensure as a registered pharmacist in Ohio.

Special clinical training — prerequisite for nursing.

MUCH of a nurse's training consists of experience in the various clinical fields. Students in the UC College of Nursing and Health have the opportunity to acquire thorough experience in all phases of nursing—general medicine, surgery, and specialized fields—through the College's affiliation with General and Dunham Hospitals. Future nurses help with patients in the wards and with outpatients through the Dispensary located at General Hospital.

Lectures, demonstrations, and laboratory work are also part of a nurse's training. These are given in connection with the College of Medicine, the College of Home Economics, and General Hospital. Cincinnati physicians and surgeons aid with the instruction.

Originally called the School of Household Administration, the College was established on campus in 1924. It is anxious to extend an understanding of its purpose to the public.

This year the school inaugurated a somewhat experimental program in which students entered selected homes for practical use of modern appliances.

TEACHERS College has its own form of co-operating in its student teaching program, which occurs in the senior year of the College's course. Students become acquainted with Cincinnati classroom situations in Junior Observation, a prerequisite to the teaching period. Working under the supervision of their co-operating teacher, students actually plan and teach lessons in their major teaching fields.

In addition to courses maintained independently, Teachers College offers undergraduate programs of educational constants in connection with other colleges of the University.

Analysis and mastery of legal theory is paramount.

BECAUSE three prominent lawyers felt the need for a law school in the area west of the Alleghenies, a private law school was organized in 1833. Part of the Cincinnati College in 1835, the school joined with the UC law department in 1897 to form the University's College of Law.

The College, aware that the laws governing man's relations with society continually change, keeps its program of legal education in pace with, and even anticipates, the changes. In addition to developing its students' analysis powers and mastery of legal theory, the College teaches practical skills.

IN MARCH of 1957 John Betjeman, a noted English Poet, occupied the George Elliston Poetry Chair. Mr. Betjeman, in a series of five lectures, spoke on the general topic of "Humor, Horror, and Topography in Nineteenth Century English Poetry." Two "firsts" were acquired by the poet in occupying the poetry chair: a trip to America and an opportunity to speak on his first love, poetry.

CHARACTERISTIC of his lecture style, Betjeman shows off his eccentricities and red suspenders as he presents his animated view on poets and poetry.

7,800 attend University of Cincinnati Evening College.

WHEN EVENING College is in session, the University campus is as busy and populated as it is during the daytime. Evening College courses, which include courses from nearly every college on campus, are especially offered for persons who have intellectual or professional interests which can be advanced by special training, but who are working during the day. Some students work toward degrees or certification; others merely audit a course for enjoyment and relaxation. Regular daytime students often take advantage of evening courses to supplement their undergraduate studies.

The College's enrollment of approximately 7,800 includes not only residents of Cincinnati, but also residents of surrounding cities and states. The UC Evening College is one of the six largest evening colleges in the United States.

COMPLETE elimination of polio is the ultimate goal of Dr. Albert B. Sabin, professor of research pediatrics at the UC College of Medicine and fellow of the Children's Hospital Research Foundation. In contrast to the familiar Salk method, Dr. Sabin's technique involves mouth doses of greatly weakened, but live polio virus vaccine. After extensive studies with animals, the Sabin vaccine is being tested with human volunteers for immunity effectiveness. Dr. Sabin's research is aided by large annual grants from the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis.

Satellite orbit calculated by director of observatory.

THE MOVEMENT of man's first artificial satellite will, in part, depend on Dr. Paul Herget; for it is his responsibility to predict and calculate the orbit of the satellite. The Naval Research Laboratory plans to launch the satellite from Florida sometime in the near future.

Dr. Herget, a native Cincinnatian and a graduate of the University, is professor of astronomy and director of the Cincinnati Observatory. His paramount interest is the computation of the orbits of minor planets and comets. "Push-button" astronomy has come about due to his utilization of IBM equipment for scientific computations.

OBSERVATORY library books of information on planets' orbits are used often.

LEGENDS about the King Nestor of Homer's "Odyssey" have been established as historical fact due to the recent archaeological excavations of the University of Cincinnati. The royal residence of Nestor, 3000 years old, was found near Pylos, Greece.

Although the University's excavation at Troy were completed nearly twenty years ago, Dr. Blegen and his associates have just completed the fourth and final volume of the series on Troy; for once the digging is over, the job of studying, cataloging, photographing, describing, and analyzing material for the comprehensive report begins. Both the Troy and the Pylos excavations were done through UC spring and summer expeditions under Dr. Blegen's direction.

A graduate of three universities, Dr. Carl Blegen served as head of the University's Department of Classics for seven years. He retires from this position at the end of the 1956-57 school year.

Renown UC color physicist continues his experiments.

IN SEARCH of a simple way to demonstrate crystalline form, Dr. Isay Balinkin developed a cube with sides which could be stretched into any of the basic crystalline shapes. This invention of 1935 was only one of many unique scientific apparatus he would invent. A scientist with imagination, Dr. Balinkin, a native of Odessa, Russia, is today the world's foremost authority on color physics.

His many students know him as a University of Cincinnati professor of Experimental Physics and a man who delights in thinking of new ways to demonstrate his theories of color and the effect of light. Tireless in his research and creativity, Dr. Balinkin, who studied in Istanbul, Turkey, before joining the UC faculty in 1927, continues to work with new problems and experiments. He also acts as consulting physicist for the Cambridge Tile Manufacturing Company of Cincinnati.

DR. KENNETH E. CASTER is the recipient of an unusual distinction: Chrestien Mica Gondwanaland medal of India for his contributions to the geology of Gondwanaland, which is the area embracing South America, Africa, Madagascar, India, Australia, and Antarctica.

Dr. Caster's research in South America involved the study of such problems as the possibility that the continents of the world were joined together at an early era of geologic history.

A recent sixteen-month stay in Tasmania, Australia — made possible through both a Guggenheim fellowship and a Fulbright scholarship — gave Dr. Caster the opportunity to add specimens to his extensive collection of Devonian rocks. His collection is now the most extensive in its field in the world.

A graduate of Cornell University, Dr. Caster is professor of geology and fellow of the UC Graduate School of Arts and Sciences. He is internationally known for his geologic and palaeontologic studies.

Religious Emphasis Week queries "Where Do You Stand?"

THE UNIVERSITY'S 19th annual Religious Emphasis Week began on November 11 and concluded on the 16th. This week, set aside each year to learn more of other religions and to strengthen all faiths, introduces a spiritual influence into every-day activities. Beginning with a worship service and banquet open to the entire campus on Sunday, REW was launched in the community with a convocation in Wilson followed by a reception in the Alms Memorial Building. Dr. W. Gordon Ross was the speaker.

During the week, UC students and faculty and the community at large had the opportunity to attend various seminars, convocations, and coffee hours. The guest speakers were prominent theologians: Rev. Morris Arnold, Dr. Lou Silberman, Rabbi Albert Goldman, Rev. Laurie Anderson, Rev. James McGuire, Chaplain Major General Charles Carpenter, and Rev. Robert Netting. The activities of the week based on the central theme, "Where Do You Stand?" were under the direction of Dorothy Aberman.

HOMECOMING, 1956! Clifton Avenue was transformed into a parade route lined with excited yet sleepy-eyed watchers. The parade—queen candidates, UC band, and colorful floats—led by "Big Ted" Kluszewski, moved down to Ludlow and through Burnet Woods into the stadium. There it slowly circled the track amid the bustle of pre-game activities and the cheers of students, alums, and football enthusiasts as they eagerly anticipated the Bearcats' game against their traditional rival, Xavier.

Jane Replogle reigns over first Homecoming Dance.

ANOTHER FIRST in the history of the University was recorded in the Homecoming Dance, October 13, 1956. Castle Farms resounded with the music of Chuck Foster and the shuffling on the crowded dance floor; at times, dancing consisted of merely standing. Later the band became the background for the featured entertainment of the Hilltoppers.

Zero hour was a double feature: the announcement of the float trophy winners and the crowning of the queen. The runner-up winners, Kappa and SAE, accepted their trophies, remembering that their floats were the charred remains of paper and chicken wire. Alpha Chi's ship with tinsel sails, also destroyed by fire, received women's grand prize trophy; Lambda Chi's "Cincycrella" won grand prize in the men's division. Ten queen finalists were introduced and two, Vicki Fansher of Zeta and Connie Pinfold of Tri Delt, were recalled to become the queen's attendants. Then Don Allen, general chairman of the day, presented Theta's Jane Replogle as Homecoming Queen.

Parade, floats, unanticipated fire, dance, and a queen constituted a history-making Homecoming Day.

Political parties arise out of keen competition.

THE MOST controversial issue on the University of Cincinnati campus was the 1957 campus election. Affiliated and unaffiliated men and women were up in the air about student government and Student Council in particular. Determined to do something about the situation, many steps were taken to interest the entire campus in government. The University of Cincinnati News Record editorialized and established a committee interested in good government.

Politics of all kinds were discussed among the student body; from this feeling came introduction of the political party to campus. Dave Zuverink and his band of followers became known as the Good Government Group, while the Veterans, Sigma Chi's and French Hall merged in the Do-More-Crats party, Phi Delt, and the remaining Greeks were left to forge for themselves. After all the spectacle and competition, Student Council, announcing the outcome, showed there was no increase in student voting.

The play's name comes from the flowering of a peach tree, symbolizing the fertility of the earth, at the flood's end.

The Romantic Rainmaker captivates theater goers.

"THE RAINMAKER," a romantic comedy by N. Richard Nash, was staged by Mummers Guild on February 8 and 9, 1957. Theda Kleinhans and Bill Griese played the leading roles of Lizzie and Starbuck, the "rainmaker."

The plot revolves around plain Lizzie and her family's concern over both her lack of a beau and the lack of rain in the area. The loquacious "rainmaker" remedies both situations, for he brings love to Lizzie and rain to end the drought.

SOPHOS men help their queen through the brown jug.

Pretty Sue Habegger reigns as Queen of Sophos for '57.

THE MEN of Sophos have a new queen, Sue Habegger of Alpha Chi Omega. Again the Topper Club resounded to the thrills and enthusiasm provided by the Sophos Dance. The traditional brown jug was the center of attraction as twelve pert freshman women competed for the queenship. Each candidate was introduced; Jaye Marioni, the 1955 queen, gave her farewell thoughts. The court was presented as Mary Lou Bruchner, Kappa Delt; Gail Fullen, Chi Omega; Mary Dee Luteaus, Theta Phi; and Barb Brown, Kappa Alpha Theta, became proud possessors of court positions.

The quietness of the audience changed to happy confusion as Sue burst through the paper jug. The Sophos members serenaded her, and soon the evening ended with a new queen and a new memory.

THE ANNUAL Sig Ep Queen of Hearts was held on February 1, 1957, at Castle Farms. The fraternity held the dance, which was free to the entire campus, to present their new sweetheart.

A crowd of approximately 1200 danced to the music of Deke Moffitt and was entertained by the Expressers, a quartet of students from Marshall.

The peak of the evening came when Nancy Kiphart of Kappa Kappa Gamma stepped through the paper replica of the Sig Ep pin to become the 1957 Queen of Hearts. The newly crowned queen was presented with the sweetheart pin by Chi Omega's Jean Moesta, last year's sweetheart. The fraternity members selected Nancy from a list of twelve candidates. As sweetheart, she will be hostess at Sig Ep events.

Wednesday noon was spent in seminars for sorority and fraternity officers. Here common problems were shared and discussed.

ON MAY 5, 1956, the fieldhouse was alive with people and noise — it was the night of the annual Sigma Sigma Carnival. Sorority and fraternity booth workers in burlesque garb mingled with booth goers with nonsensical prizes. The Phi Delt tented side show conveyed the air of a carnival. A raffle gave a cocker pup to a lucky ticket holder. Ticket stub numbers were called out at intervals to give away door prizes. The clanging of sledge hammers smashing a 1940 Nash sounded concomitantly with invitations to try one's luck at the booths.

Late in the evening Dr. Ian MacGregor announced booth trophy winners: women's division — Theta Phi, most popular; Alpha Chi, most beautiful; DZ, most carnival-like; men's division — Delt, most popular; ATO, most beautiful; Lambda Chi, most carnival-like.

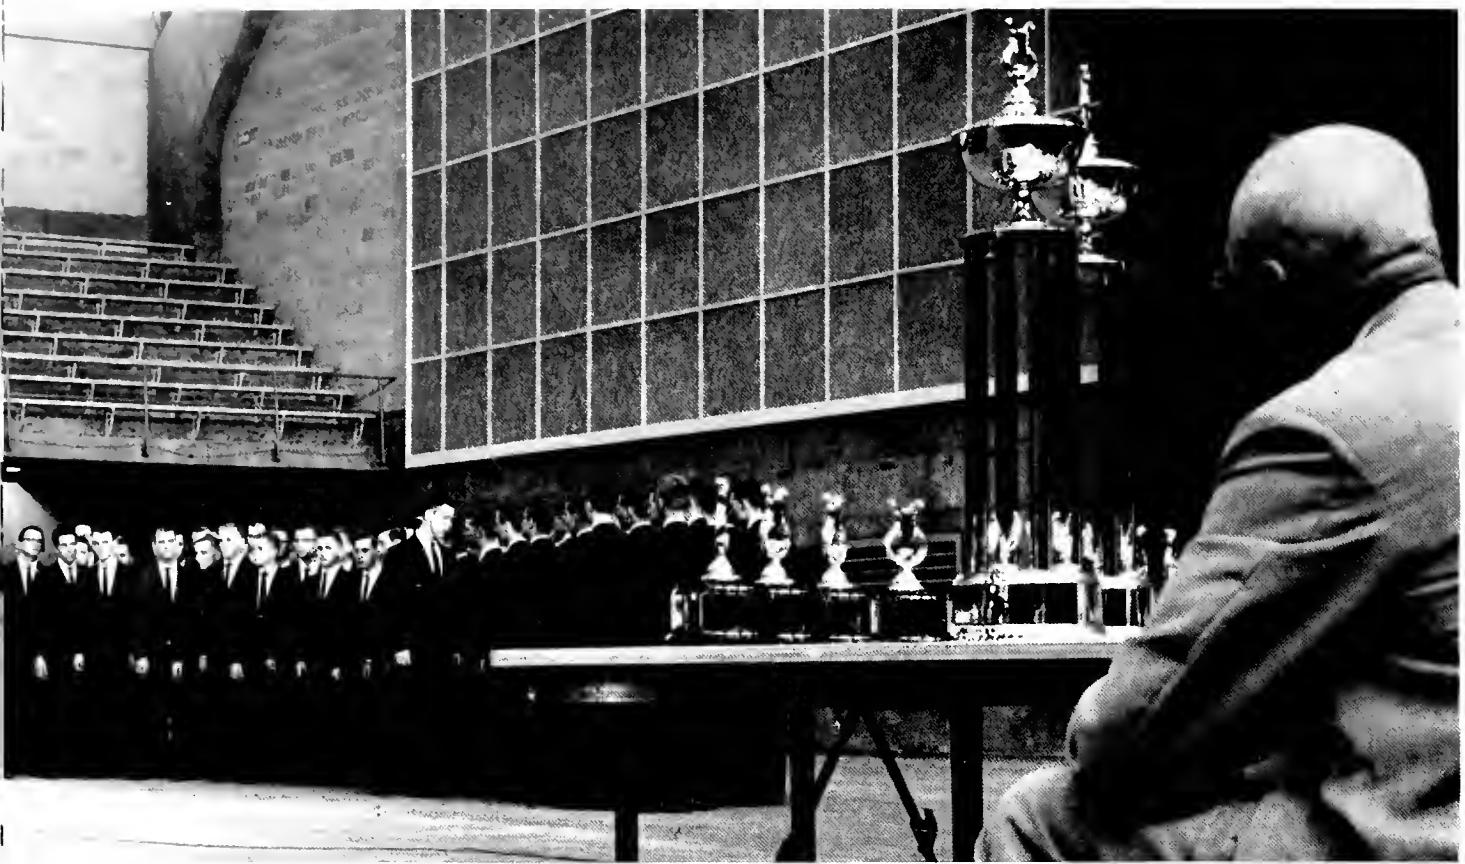

Then the crowd thinned and soon tired workers began to tear booths down — the carnival was over.

'56 football season begins; Cats drop two, down Tulsa.

CINCINNATI found it rough going in starting their 1956 season. In his second season Coach Blackburn, playing a team of more than 15 sophomores on the first three squads, worked to bring the Cats to a wide-open offensive team.

Cincy opened the season against Dayton before 16,000 home fans. The Cat's took the lead 7-6 in the second quarter when Barry Maroney intercepted a pass from Dayton's Spoerl and raced 71 yards down the sideline for a touchdown. Five plays later Sophomore quarterback Joe Morrison intercepted another Spoerl pass and raced 88 yards for the TD. Cincy leading 13-6 at half time, Dayton fought back in the second half, winning 19-13 against a fighting Cincy team.

In the second game, Cincy looked better, holding Tulsa to only an early first period score. Evans kicked the extra point to give the Cats the win 7-6.

Against College of Pacific the Cats played their best ball of the young season although losing 21-15. Gene Johnson and Walt Gordon scored for Cincy, while Morrison and Billy Williams teamed up to gain 121 yards on 7 complete passes.

UC Closes to X-Homecoming, Navy-Migration; win one

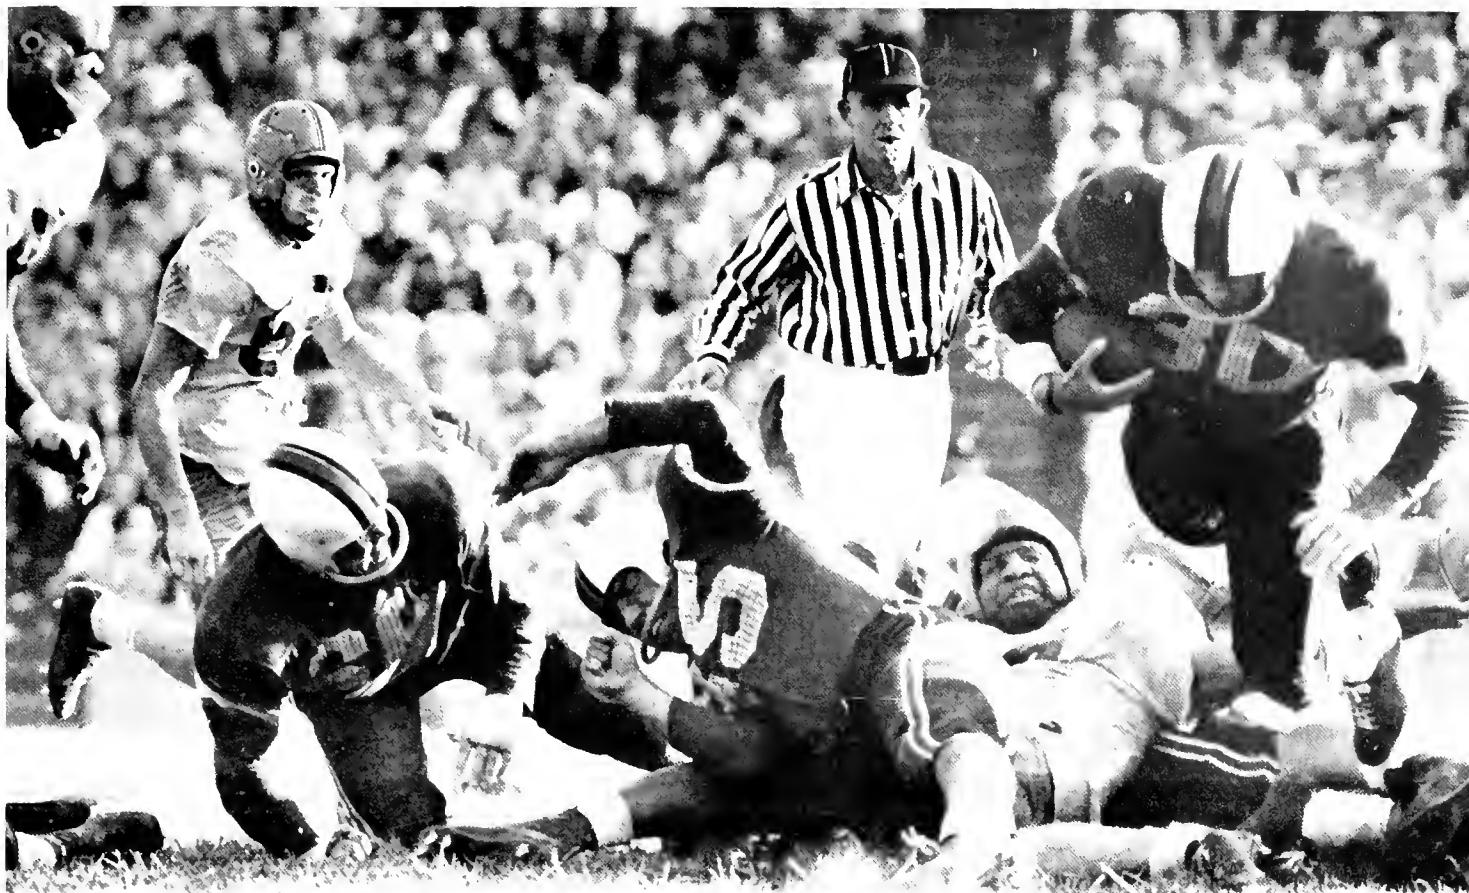

AGAINST a near sell-out crowd of 28,000, Cincy found Xavier a much tougher team than expected. The only thing encouraging for the Cats was a 57 yard pass with 12 seconds in the half from Morrison to Genc Johnson, and a 64 yard run by Ruth in the third period.

Behind a Navy-Migration crowd of 2,000, Cincy found it difficult to get started, managing only 3 first downs in the first half. Cincy's only touchdown came with five minutes left in the second period. Gary Mortemore recovered a Navy fumble on their 42, and two plays later Williams passed 33 yards to Niemann for the TD. The Cats knocked at Navy's door in the third period when they moved to the Navy 3 in 13 plays, but were penalized back to the 45 on three straight penalties. Navy wound up on top 13 to 7.

Cincy seemed to find the range against Marquette, gaining a terrific 429 yards on offense, while winning easily 33-13. The first half was marked by 12 UC first downs, a 33 yard drive by DeWitz, an 18 yard TD sprint by Bodnar, and a 55 yard TD run by Bob Del Rosa. In the second half, Morrison returned a Marquette kick-off 84 yards for a touchdown, and helped the Cats move 76 yards in 8 plays for their fifth score.

CINCY played like they owned Wichita, winning easily 21-0. Bob Del Rosa and Morrison climaxed first half drives with TD's as Cincy moved for 31 and 69 yards respectively for scores. The Cat's final score came on an 87 yard punt return by Joe Morrison late in the fourth quarter.

Detroit found future Missouri Valley member Cincinnati a real battle, as our Cats went all the way winning 33-7. The game saw Cincinnati gain 391 yards, good for 15 first downs. Jack Gordon led the Cats, gaining for himself 103 yards in 6 carries. Morrison returned a punt 68 yards for a TD. Bob Del Rosa scored twice, and DeWitz went 35 more yards for the final score.

Arch-rival Miami came from behind in the annual Turkey-Day classic, winning 27-13 to close out Cincy's season. Cincy held a 7-6 half time lead on a Morrison-to-Gene Johnson pass, while gaining 102 yards rushing. But, from then on it was all Miami. The game ended when tackle Jim Nelson grabbed a Miami fumble with 13 seconds left and raced 45 yards for Cincinnati's only other score.

Basketball reigns, though setbacks hamper varsity.

DESPITE the rather sour note on which the 1956-57 cage season ended, University of Cincinnati's Bearcats can look back on a creditable campaign in a year loaded with adversities.

Major injuries, scholastic ineligibilities, suspensions, dismissals and other personnel problems were the rule rather than the exception. Looking back, only Stevens, Gumbert and Hood played in every game and the Cats found themselves playing much of the time without two or three of their regulars.

Despite all these headaches, the Cats managed a respectable 15-9 season. Seven of Cincinnati's nine losses were administered at the hands of teams that played in either the NIT or NCAA post season tourneys.

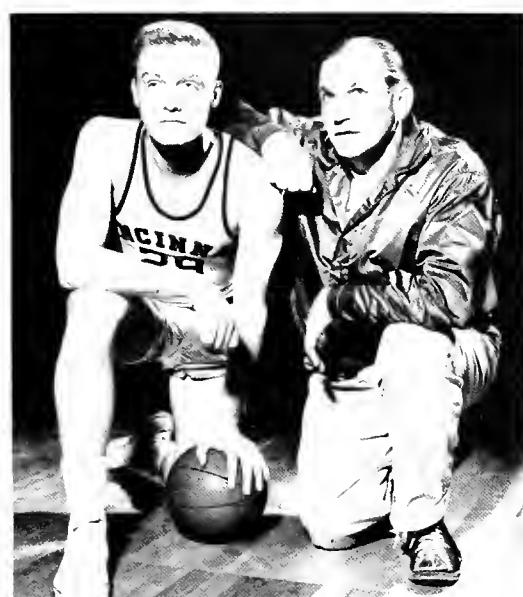

Highlights of the season were Ciney's victory in the Cincinnati Invitational Tourney, victories over such power plants as Dayton, Bradley, Xavier, Miami, Fordham, Duquesne and LaSalle, and the receiving of the third NIT invitation in UC's history.

Connie Dierking, the Bearcats' pivotman walked off with individual honors, leading the team with an 18.5 scoring average and 18.8 rebound average. He set a school single game rebounding record by pulling in 33 rebounds against Loyola of the South.

Next year will be the Cats first in the Missouri Valley Conference; prospects look very good. With only two seniors leaving, and a fine crop of freshmen to augment this year's varsity, a good season can be expected.

Cats pick up after slow start, then drop two games.

THE INJURY-RIDDLED cagers opened the 1956-57 season against the St. Louis Billikens and were soundly beaten 91-73. After a win over DePauw and another defeat at the hands of Tennessee, the disappointing Bearcat cagers had only a single win to show for three dismal outings.

Captain Frank Nimmo led the comeback of UC with 20 points while upsetting the highly-favored Dayton Flyers, 63-53, at Dayton. With this victory, the Cats started off on a five game winning streak.

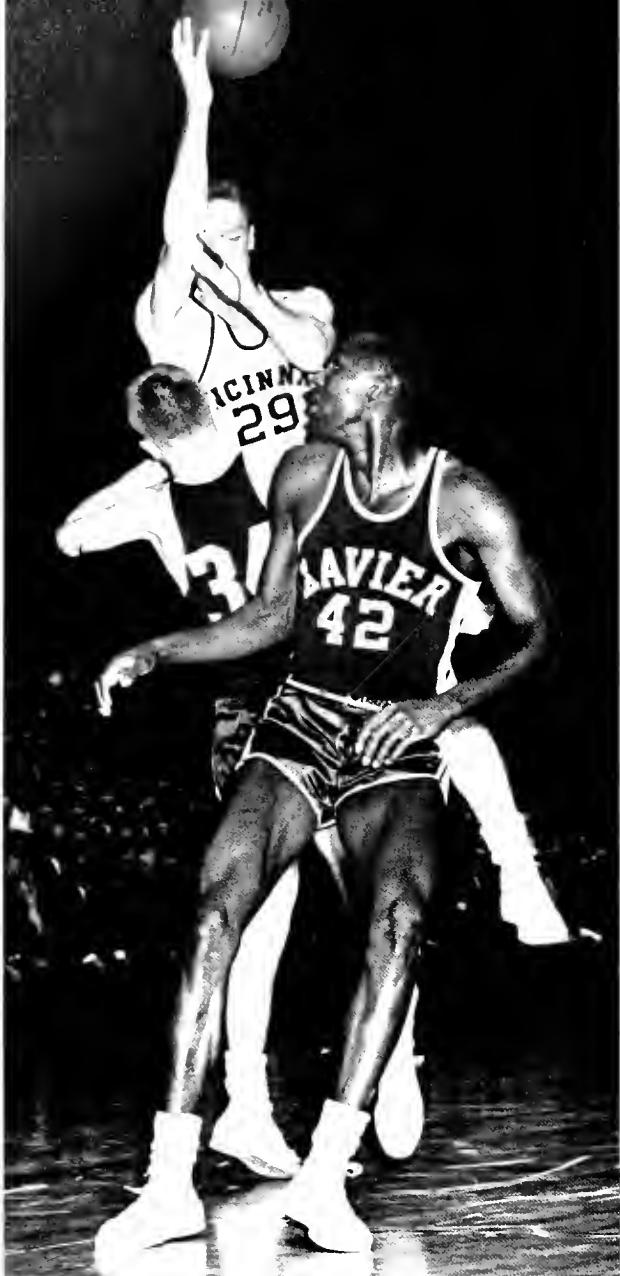

With the CIT championship safely tucked away, with victories over George Washington and Fordham, UC went on to upset Bradley and Duquesne to boost their season's record to a good six and two. The question marks on the squad were removed as Dierking proved he could rebound and score. The steady performance of Wayne Stevens and the great leadership of Frank Nimmo, helped to carry UC over their early season hurdles.

At the Cincinnati Gardens, a disastrous 26 percent shooting mark, against Xavier spelled defeat more than did the Musketeer's red-hot 50 percent from the field. In a nip and tuck battle at Pittsburgh, Cincinnati again went down to defeat at the hands of Duquesne, 60-59.

UC takes seven of eight, hit again by injury jinx.

THE CATS' luck picked up. They went on to take seven out of the next eight games. After a rather easy victory over LaSalle, the Bearcats ran into a red-hot Eastern Kentucky team; but the Cats met the occasion with a rather explosive 47 percent from the floor, and handily defeated them 90-82. Dierking led the team with 26 points and 24 rebounds.

With three regulars, Dierking, Nimmo, and Mendenhall missing from the lineup, UC held their own through most of the game with Miami. Wayne Embry seemed to be the whole difference, as he led Miami to victory by scoring 37 points.

Unable to shake the injury jinx, UC did manage easy victories over Toledo, Ball State, and Regis. Still smarting from a solid clawing handed it by Xavier earlier in the season, the Cats were not to be denied, and walked off the floor at the end with a 69-57 victory under their belts.

Playing like a cat toying with a mouse the UC Bearcats eked out a narrow five point win, 82-77, over Loyola of the South. Dierking led both clubs with his total of 34 points and 33 rebounds; the rebound total set a new UC record. With more injuries UC finished with a win over Miami and losses to Seton Hall, Dayton, and Morehead.

First annual CIT played. Cats take tourney crown.

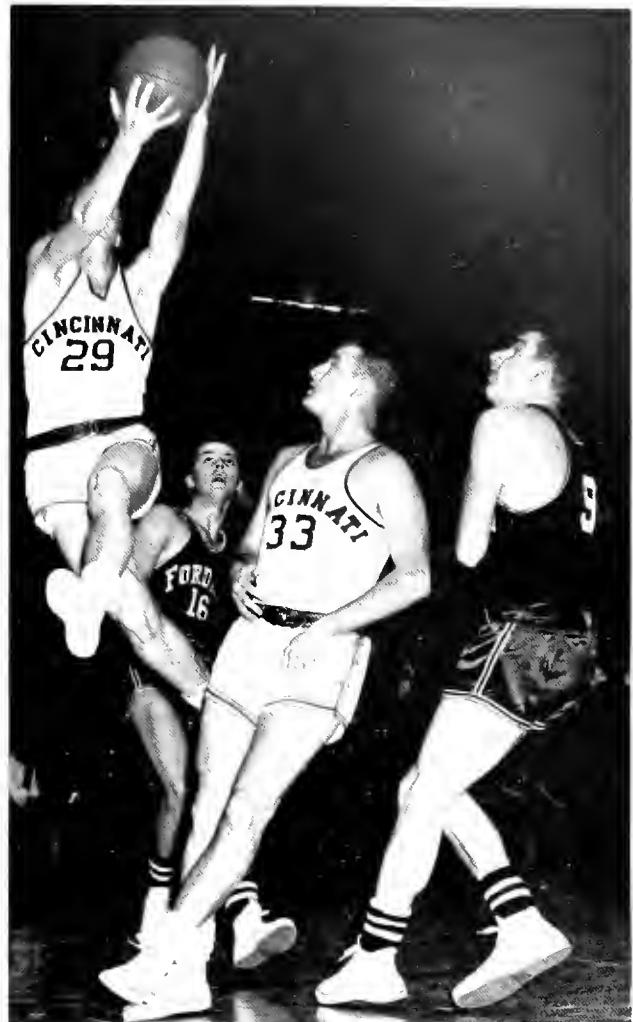

THE YEAR, 1956-57, will be remembered by basketball boosters as the first year of the Cincinnati Invitational Tournament. UC played host in the two day series of games to three other teams, Miami, George Washington, and Fordham. Although the Miami Redskins were rated pre-game favorites of the tourney, Cincy copped the basketball crown.

Another CIT crown in UC hands was that of "Tournament Queen." Miss Gail Fullen was chosen from the candidates nominated by Miami and UC varsity squads, by press, radio, and TV representatives covering the games.

Each tournament team had one thing in common; they were all in the midst of a rebuilding year. The first night of action, December 21, found Miami losing to Fordham, and UC taking the measure of George Washington, the youngest team in the tourney. In the fight for the championship, Cincinnati outplayed Fordham 73 to 67. Dierking's stellar performance was his best during the whole year.

The All-Tournament team selected by the radio and press included two Bearcats; Frank Nimmo and Connie Dierking. Others selected were Wayne Embry of Miami, Jim Cunningham of Fordham, and Bill Telasky of George Washington.

"I'VE GOT IT," yells John Brady of Fordham, but Connie Dierking won't hear. Cats beat Fordham 73-67 in finals.

ST. BONAVENTURE'S Captain and star, Brendan McCann has ball but finds Cinc's Mendenhall too tough to handle.

THERE'S always an anxious moment when the ball is arching for the basket. Dierking crouches and waits as UC scores.

Cincinnati falters in NIT at Madison Square Garden.

ST. BONAVENTURE'S Brown Indians, a Bearcat nemesis in past years, once again soundly defeated the Cats 90-72 in the first round of the National Invitation Tournament. The "Bonnie's" were definitely a vastly under-rated team as they also defeated Seattle, the number one seeded team in the tournament.

The general ineptness of UC's play caused the defeat more than the good play of St. Bonaventure.

Frosh sparked by Robertson are record-breaking team.

FEW PERSONS stood ready to challenge the consensus of opinion that the 1956-57 Bearkitten basketball team ranked as the finest in UC history. The point-happy freshman eagles, paced by a record-shattering performance of Oscar Robertson, won 13 of 15 games and compiled a fabulous 99.6 scoring average during the past season.

The Bearkittens copped two games from Dayton and Miami and split even with Xavier. The remainder of the season included local industrial outfits, many of which listed former collegiate eagles.

Robertson, a 6-5 forward who missed the final two games because of an ankle injury, set an all-time frosh scoring record by banging home 429 points in 13 games for a 33 point average. All the other starters finished well up in double figures. Ralph Davis, a guard, finished with a 16.5 mean just a shade above his running mate, Spud Hornsby, who compiled a 16.3 average. Ron Dykes, forward, posted a 14.1 per game mark while center Larry Willey, who finished with a rush, averaged 13.8 for the 15 games.

As a team the Kittens made 10 percent of their shots and passed the 100 point mark seven times during the season.

Cats overpower foes; team has berth in NCAA tourney.

OPTIMISM ran high in the Bearcat camp as the 1956 baseball season got under way. Coach Ed Jucker had 11 lettermen on hand plus a plentiful number of talented newcomers. The end result was that the squad racked up 13 wins in 16 games, the highest mark ever posted by a UC diamond team. After dropping two of their first seven contests, both to rugged Florida nines on a spring barn-storming tour, the Bearcats grabbed eight victories in their last nine starts.

Senior right hander Willie Ernst posted a 6-1 record and compiled an amazing .870 earned run average. Junior right fielder, Ed Smith, led the hitters with a husky .391 average. The team had exceptionally good hitting power and a fairly tight defense but definitely lacked depth in the pitching department.

The 1957 Bearcat diamondmen appear to have everything except the most important phase of the game — pitching. Coach Jucker has regulars back at all eight positions from last season's NCAA tourney team; a couple of first stringers are having a tough time holding onto their regular berths.

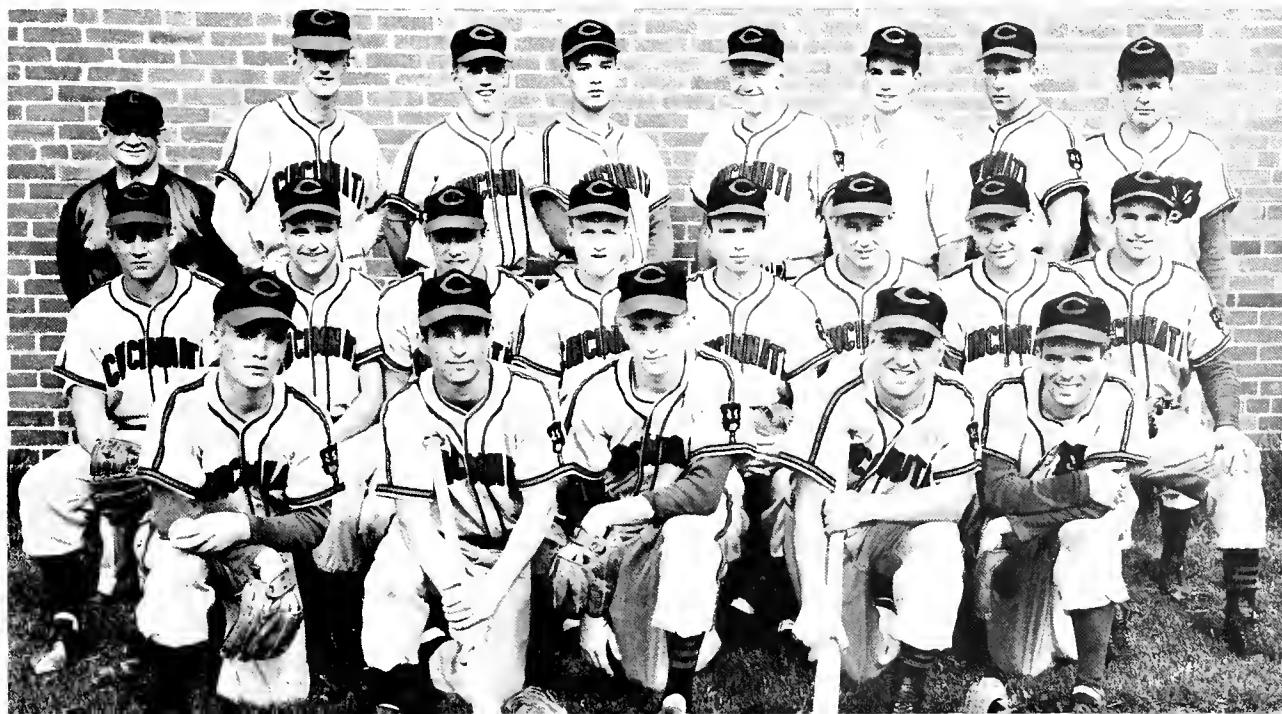

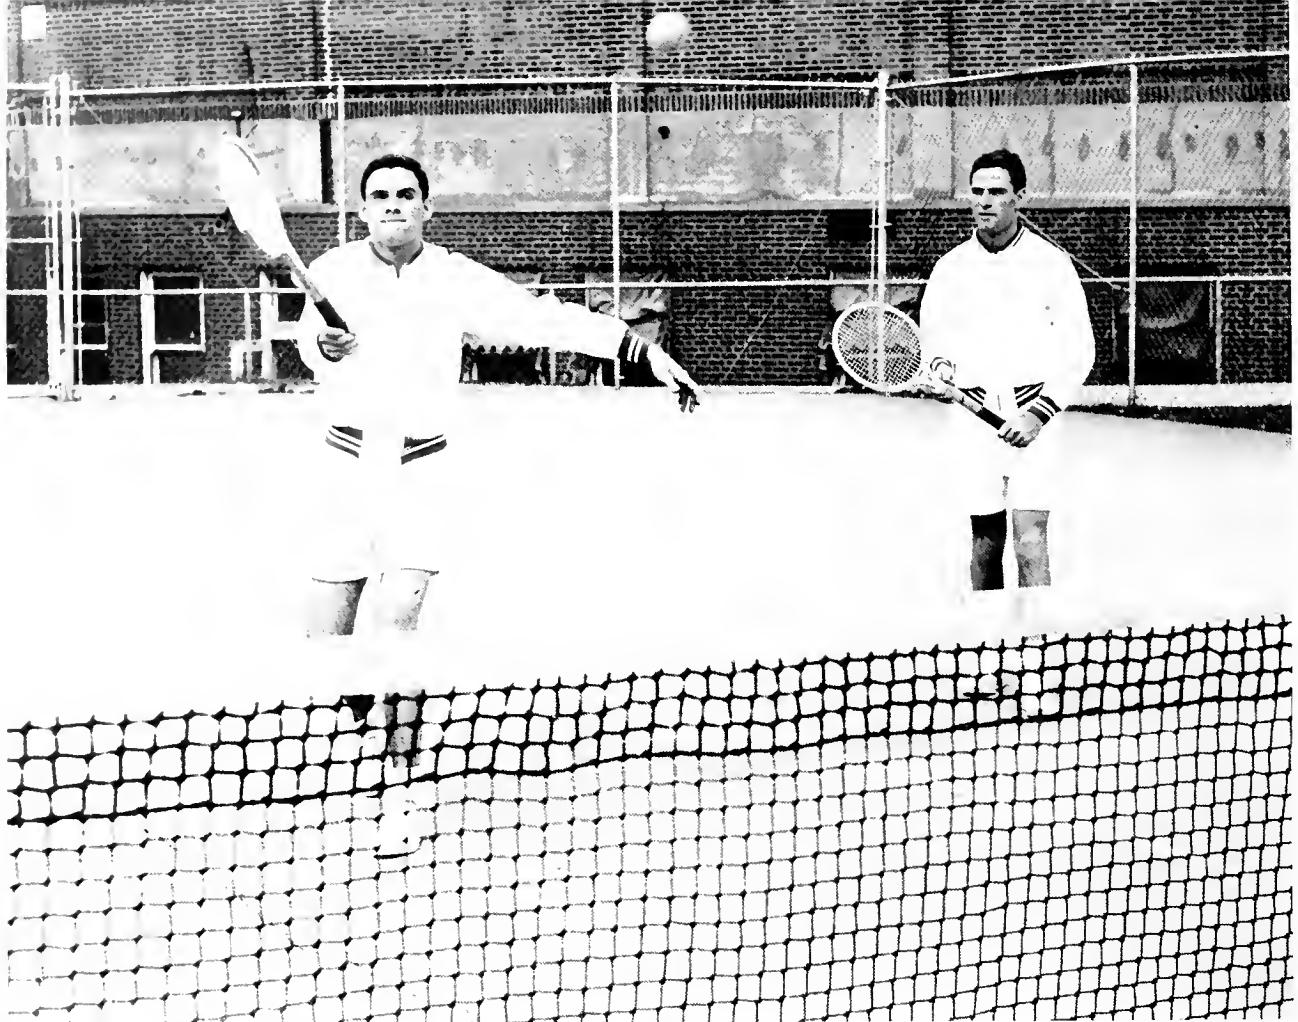

UC PLAYS Bradley, third place winner of NCAA tourney on newly relocated and rebuilt baseball diamond.

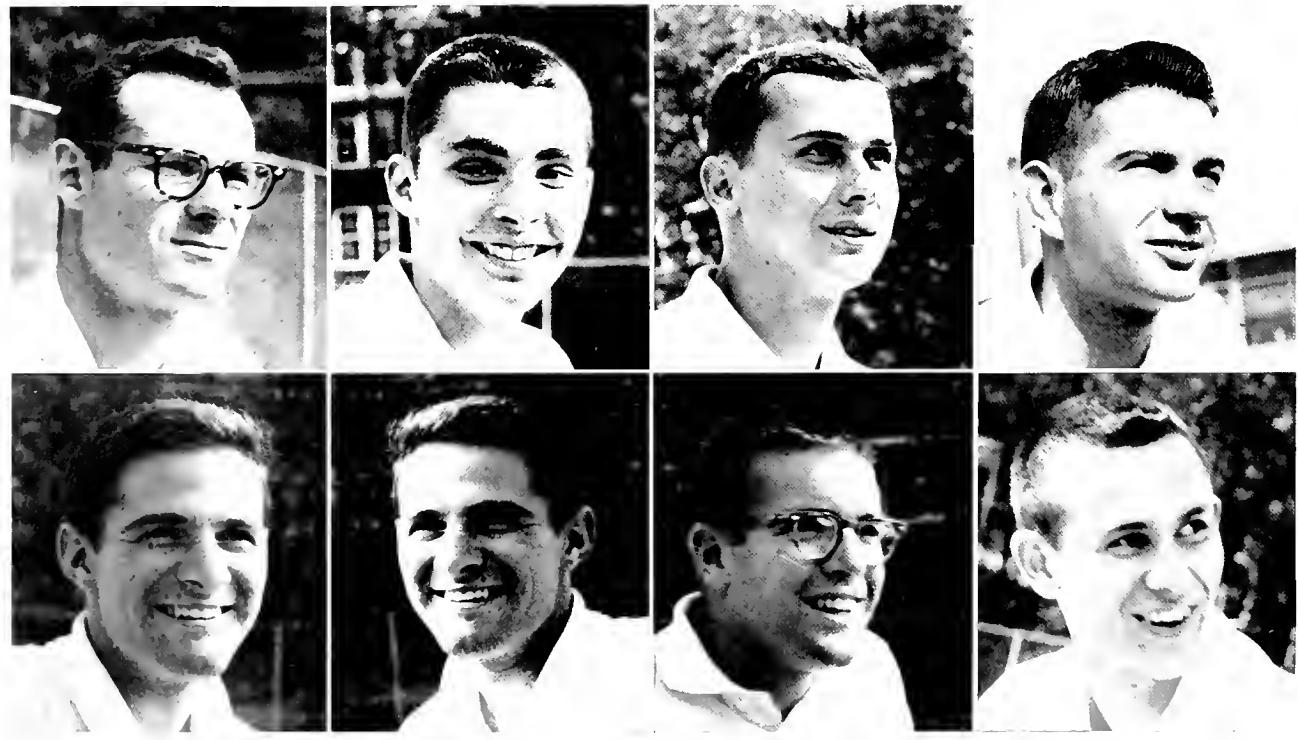

FRESHMAN Jack Lee completes double play with a fast peg to first. UC defeated Bradley 9-8, split series.

Racketmen win 15 drop 4; Hadley captains '57 squad.

IN HIS FIRST season at the helm of the Bearcat tennis crew Harry Fogleman added to the imposing record he has established around the country as one of the most highly successful net coaches and tennis authorities in the business.

Bettering last season's 15-1 record with one of the toughest net schedules in school history is no easy task, but that is exactly what Coach Harry Fogleman and his 1957 Bearcat racketmen are setting out to do. With seven returning lettermen and some impressive looking newcomers on hand Cincinnati is not counting on dropping very many.

Coach Fogleman will again have the talented services of Wally Holzman, Bill Hadley and Paul Gosiger, the top three singles players on last spring's squad. Holzman was undefeated in singles play copping 18 in a row. Bob Holzman, twin brother of Wally, is back after a two year stint in the service, and figures to move into the number four singles berth. Denny Nabors and Dick Roehr will probably round out the remaining positions.

The 23 match schedule includes a southern tour through North Carolina and Virginia as well as traditional midwest net opponents.

COACH HARRY FOGLEMAN directing or coaching from the center of the court is a familiar sight to passers-by.

PAUL "GOOSE" Gosiger uses his powerful serve to advantage. Bill Hadley and Gosiger are first doubles team.

Thinclads come up with 3; aim to better '57 record.

THE CINCINNATI Bearcat thinclads completed the 1956 track season with a record of three wins and two losses. Off to a slow start the Cats gained momentum winning over Butler, Morehead, and Kentucky. At the beginning of the season it appeared as if the team would not be very strong. Cincy proved to have depth, racking up 16 second and third places out of a possible 26, but lacked first place points.

Pacing the Cats during the season was Wayne Stevens with 67 points. George Ruth and Kent Friel were second and third high point men with 41 and 40 points, respectively.

Thirteen returning letter-winners and a classy group of newcomers brighten the 1957 track picture this spring. The Bearcats appear to have added depth in the track events but are woefully weak in certain field events.

UC sees all-freshman team; first wrestling since 1927.

FOR THE FIRST time since 1927, the University of Cincinnati participated in intercollegiate wrestling. Much of the impetus for reviving wrestling at the University can be credited to Dr. Walter C. Langsam, UC president, who came to Cincinnati from Gettysburg College where the sport is an important phase of the intercollegiate program.

Under the direction of Coach Lee Haslinger, the Cat grapplers fought their way along a rocky path of injuries and gross inexperience. Drawing from a student body almost totally unfamiliar with collegiate wrestling, Coach Haslinger chose six freshmen and one sophomore. Many mistakes were made and the going was difficult, with progress slow.

The individual honors went to Bob Vega, who won five bouts and lost one. Ed Denk was second with four wins and two losses and Jerry Maynard third with three wins and three losses.

REFEREE Ed Luthy watches Marshall's Simpson, Cincinnati's Ed Denk maneuver for a take-down. Denk lost the match 2-0.

THE UNIVERSITY of Cincinnati Rifle Team ended the season with a mediocre record. In the Southwestern Ohio Rifle League the Bearcats were able to chalk up three wins as against nine reversals. In the Southern Ohio Intercollegiate Rifle League the UC team finished last out of seven teams.

Although only two upperclassmen returned to the team, the season was better than expected. Freshmen dominated the team. Don Lilly won the Percy V. Morris trophy for the high individual average score and also the Bob Davies award as the outstanding freshman on the team.

Coach Pfeiffer, working with a team largely inexperienced in college swimming, lettered nine men, all of them for the first time. With twelve freshmen and sophomores composing the team, 1958 is looked to as a very promising year. Hopes are also high for a new Men's Gym to house swimming meets.

Theta Chi, SAE battle for IM cup; others lag behind.

THE INTRAMURAL program is one of the most extensive year-round extra-curricular activities for UC men. The IM program, administered and supervised by Bill Schwarberg, who is assisted by the student managers, provides a sequence of recreation throughout the school year. Awards find their way to the top contestants: an All-Year Trophy to the organization compiling the most points in the course of the year, and a Sportsmanship Trophy, plus medals to winners of individual sports. The team and individual contests make possible a friendly form of rivalry which induces keen competition as a great unifying factor among all participants.

The 1956-57 intramural season is complete except for the spring sports. These include track, softball, golf, tennis, and horseshoes. Theta Chi again this season has moved along winning volleyball, table tennis, pocket billiards, free throws, and handball. Runner-up Sigma Alpha Epsilon won championships in football, basketball, wrestling, rifle and tied with Sigma Chi for the swimming crown. Third place Phi Delta Theta copped bowling and placed second in swimming competition.

INTRAMURAL managers Jack Borcherding, Dave Snyder, Bob Lewis set up an intramural schedule of league games.

WAA offers collegiate, intramural competition.

WOMEN of the University of Cincinnati find a wide variety of sports in the program of the Women's Athletic Association. Hockey and basketball enthusiasts have opportunity to compete with other college teams among them Miami, Dayton, University of Kentucky, and Wilmington. The varsity hockey team had a good season, winning all except one game.

Most of the WAA program centers around intramural competition. Each of the fifteen sports are represented in this program. Chi Omega and Independents are top contenders for the 1957 Intramural Trophy which will be awarded at the May banquet. Award of the trophy is made on the basis of total points for a group's participation in intramurals.

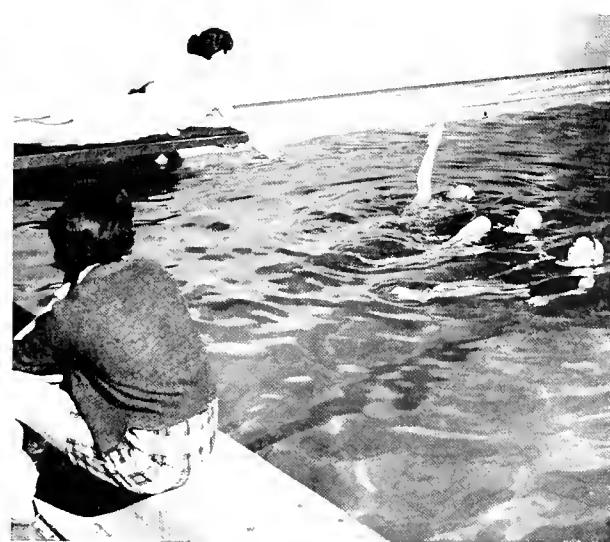

WAA constants are Modern Dance Club, Penguin Club, and bowling. Rifle team competes in postal matches the year-round. Two "Co-Rec" nights were a WAA innovation. All campus was invited to enjoy an evening of square dancing and ping pong. Looking forward, WAA, as hostess association, made plans for the Athletic Federation of College Women.

Officers were Janice Reitzes, president; Mary Busser, vice president; Margie Meyer, recording secretary; and Evelyn Yamaguchi, corresponding secretary.

Organizations

TORCH AND HAMMER SKULL AND BONES" CHANT THE MEN OF UC'S OLDEST HONORARY, SIGMA SIGMA, IN TAPPING CEREMONY.

Virtually every facet of university life is reflected in the campus organizations. Many personalities move through the many phases of these organizations. They become the warp, the unifying thread in the areas of activity: living, religion, profession, government, publications, arts, honor and recognition societies. This is university life.

SCHOLARSHIP, athletics, social and religious affairs, publications, speech, music, and dramatic arts are the facets of Omicron Delta Kappa, national honor society for junior and senior men. The wearer of an ODK key finds that with recognition comes added responsibility to the University and his fellow students.

ODK, in conjunction with Mortar Board, conducted a three day Leadership Conference out of which came many suggestions to improve student activities. Round red tags were a familiar sight on campus just before the Miami football and Dayton basketball games. Tag Day serves a dual purpose in that school spirit is heightened and a scholarship is made available through purchases of ODK tags. Another ODK-Mortar Board service to the University was the annual May Honors Day Convocation.

A MORTAR BOARD bearing the Greek letters "Pi Sigma Alpha" on a camel-colored blazer distinguished the women who were members of the Mystic 13 chapter of Mortar Board, national honor society for senior women.

Junior women who meet the high standards of service, scholarship, and leadership are tapped on each March 13 by wearers of the black robes and hoods in a suspense-filled ceremony in the Union's Great Hall.

Mortar Board joined ODK in presenting the annual fall Leadership Conference at Camp Kern, Ohio. "Going Places" set the pace for the weekend meeting of campus leaders and potential leaders. Desiring to develop an ideal master plan of student activities, Mortar Board began an extensive study of campus organizations. With ODK, Mortar Board sponsored the May Honors Day Convocation.

CINCINNATUS, originally an honor society, founded in 1917, was disbanded in 1937. In the years following World War II, the University found the job of interesting prospective students in UC a tremendous undertaking. Here was a need for students who might offer personal service to the University: Cincinnatus was reborn.

Today's freshmen have seen Cincinnatus in action serving as hosts at the summer coke parties which act as an introduction for them to the University. This service group also acts as hosts to high school seniors on Collegiate Day in the fall.

All students attending UC, whose parents are alumni of the University were guests of Cincinnatus at a Second Generation Tea on February 28. Cincinnatus entertained high school seniors on High School Day, April 6.

ADVISING freshman women and transfers is the duty and honor of the Junior Advisers. Personality, leadership, scholarship, and participation in several campus activities are the basis of selection for future advisers. Women petition in their sophomore year for this honor and are chosen by previous advisers.

The advisers meet their advisees on Orientation Day, take them on a tour of campus, and later conduct meetings every Tuesday afternoon. During these sessions, the advisers inform these students of traditions, extracurricular activities and academic work at the University. Problems of orientation are also discussed.

"A Weekend at West Point," a fashion and variety show sponsored by freshmen, climaxed the Junior Adviser program for the year.

INCOMING freshman men are advised by upper-class men of Men's Advisory System. Being a Men's Advisor carried with it recognition as well as responsibility to the University, for this group supplements the counseling staff of the Dean of Men. Each advisor met with his several advisees four times during the freshman orientation program of Men's Advisors. An innovation was personal interviews with each freshman.

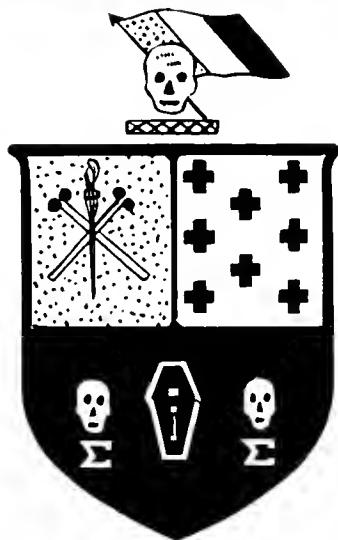

Selected to help serve the University, Men's Advisors discussed the many facets of academic life and extracurricular activities with their advisees who were in their college. This mutual interest enabled the advisors to give valuable and helpful information to the inexperienced freshmen. Six colleges were represented among the seventy advisors.

CONSTITUTION SINCE 1898

The name of the organization shall be Sigma Sigma.

All matters transacted shall be for the good of the order and of the University of Cincinnati.

This constitution shall not be amended.

FOUNDED in the spirit of service and loyalty to the University of Cincinnati, the men of Sigma Sigma continue to carry on this fine tradition begun in 1898. When a man becomes a Sigma Sigma, he pledges himself to continued pride in his alma mater and in the fraternity.

Huck Hall, named in memory of Robert "Huck" Heuck, '37, was given to Sigma Sigma as a meeting place by the elder Robert Heuck, also a Sigma Sigma. Familiar to many sports fans who drop in to enjoy congenial company at the fraternity's open houses are the copper mugs each bearing the name and year of a Sigma Sigma.

One of UC's most colorful events is the spring Sigma Sigma Carnival with its tent-sideshow and infinite variety of games and booths. Just inside the Fieldhouse door are the trophy cases, another service to UC.

THE BEST KNOWN service of Metro is that of taking attendance at various University functions. At the end of each year trophies are awarded to the sorority and fraternity with the best attendance record. However this is only one of the society's many services. Metro is an organization that works perpetually for the advancement of the University and the community surrounding it.

Each of the members of Metro has been chosen from upperclassmen who are prominent in campus activities. Among the numerous annual events is the Metro Benefit Show, the proceeds of which are used for a Christmas Party for underprivileged children. Other projects of Metro include the Basketball Banquet in honor of the team, Dad's Day, which introduces fathers of the football players to the fans in the stadium, and ushering at summer commencement.

ULEX MEMBERS are chosen for their school spirit, sportsmanship, and sense of humor. Composed of letter-men, sports-publicity men, and cheerleaders, the men of Ulex gave the University a full year of service.

Ulex

New members to this honorary are easily distinguished by their pledge outfit of gunny sacks and straw hats. During the pledge period, new members carry buckets in which they collect money which will be used to buy a trophy for the outstanding senior basketball player. The Union Grill provided background for the pledge skit.

Ulex, throughout the years, has been able to boast that they are the top men on campus. Members of Ulex add to their philanthropic work each year by playing host to a group of orphans from the Cincinnati area at one of the home football games.

FOUNDED IN 1932 nationally by Dean Holliday, Sophos has membership open only to freshman men. Each spring, freshmen outstanding in activities, athletics, and leadership — as well as scholarship — are tapped for membership in Sophos.

At the beginning of each year a beer party is held for all present members. Throughout the year Sophos members serve as hosts, showing visitors around the UC campus. Also they provide a sophomore with a scholarship.

The most popular event sponsored by Sophos is their annual Sophos Dance. At this dance a queen and her court are selected from the candidates of the various women's social organizations on campus. The girls that are chosen rule as hostesses of Sophos at their various functions throughout the year.

Alpha Lambda Delta

FURTHERING high scholarship is the main purpose of Alpha Lambda Delta, a national honor society for all freshman women. Basis for membership is at least a 2.5 during first semester of freshman year.

The Smarty Party is an annual function to honor all women who make the Dean's List during the first semester. On Honors Day, Alpha Lambda Delta presents a book award and certificates to senior women. Dean Lillian Johnson is adviser of this society, which was established at UC in 1931.

Phi Eta Sigma

COMPARABLE to Alpha Lambda Delta is Phi Eta Sigma, national scholastic honor society for freshman men. Having earned a 2.5 accumulative average in his freshman year, a Phi Eta Sigma is active in his sophomore year.

Each member an excellent student in his own right, Phi Eta Sigma collectively gives helpful information in their pamphlet "How to Study." A freshman scholarship award was presented to encourage good academic performance in college.

FOUNDED ON the campus of the University of Illinois in 1919, Alpha Sigma chapter of Beta Alpha Psi, national accounting fraternity, came on campus in 1955.

Accounting majors in the University's College of Business Administration are eligible for membership if they have obtained a 2. both in their major field, accounting, and in their accumulative average.

The Cincinnati chapter's first honorary member was named this year: Arthur Schubert, Vice President of Emery Industries and member of the UC Board.

Beta Alpha Psi meetings included speakers and several trips to offices such as IBM in Cincinnati and Norwood Chevrolet. Socially members enjoyed a card party and a January dance with Alpha Kappa Psi. Dr. Charles Griffin is faculty adviser to Beta Alpha Psi.

A NATIONAL business administration society, Beta Gamma Sigma was founded in 1913. The honorary has as its purpose ". . . to encourage and reward scholarship and accomplishment among the students of commerce and business administration; to promote the advancement of education in the art and science of business; and to foster integrity in the conduct of business operation."

Membership in Beta Gamma Sigma is restricted to students in the upper four per cent of the junior class and the upper ten per cent of the senior class. Members of the instructional staff may be elected to active membership; persons who have shown distinguished ability in the business field may be elected honorary members. New members are elected to Alpha of Ohio each spring and then are guests at an initiation banquet.

ALPHA ZETA chapter of Delta Phi Delta, the national art honorary, was established at UC in 1941. To be eligible for membership, an Applied Arts student must have a two point average for two consecutive years.

The best-known project of Delta Phi Delta is its annual Christmas Sale in the Union lobby. The proceeds from the sale of hand-made aprons, jewelry, paintings, ceramics, and mobiles, made by the members and pledges, are used for scholarships for Applied Arts students. Another annual event is the Christmas Eggnog party, which is sponsored jointly by the Applied Arts Tribunal and Delta Phi Delta. Presided over by President Wayne Benson, members of the honorary met twice a section. Outstanding speakers and films were included in the year's program. Concluding a profitable year, a picnic was held in the summer.

"PHILOSOPHY, a guide to life" is the motto of Phi Beta Kappa, the oldest Greek letter society in this country. Founded in 1776 at the College of William and Mary in Virginia, the honorary is open only to students in Colleges of Arts and Sciences on the basis of three and a half years of high scholastic work. The University of Cincinnati chapter, Delta of Ohio, was granted its charter in 1889. Active chapter is composed of society members from various alma maters who are living in the city.

Usually elected from the ten percent of their class, the new members are presented with a gold key upon their initiation in April. In the same month the active chapter honors them with a tea in Annie Laws Auditorium at the University. Once a year the local group meets for a business-dinner meeting.

OUTSTANDING scholarship, leadership, and all-around personality are qualities one can find in the men of Pi Tau Sigma. Men earning a Mechanical Engineering degree in the University's College of Engineering who meet this high standard may become members of this national honorary fraternity.

Professionally minded, these young men arranged meetings between students and practicing mechanical engineers. Their meetings were a direct carry-over from the classroom and offered much opportunity to learn by practical experience, as do the other co-operative colleges.

These engineers find time away from their slide rule is well used in social activities. A social hour followed each of their meetings and a picnic was planned for the spring. Pi Tau Sigma also sponsored a Co-op Day Exhibit.

TAU BETA PI is a national engineering honor society which was founded at Lehigh University, Bethlehem, Pennsylvania, in 1885. It now has 99 undergraduate chapters in U. S. engineering colleges, 26 alumnus chapters, and over 88,000 initiated members. The Cincinnati chapter was founded in 1915. UC students are elected to membership by Ohio Beta from the top eighth of the junior class or the upper fifth of the senior class on the basis of character and service to their college.

The fall initiation on November 3 marked the beginning of annual events for this year. At this time an award was presented to sophomore John Welch for having attained the highest scholastic average in freshman engineering. Once a year the engineering societies sponsor the "Honor Hop" to promote fellowship.

SCARAB Fraternity is the only honor society open to UC students of architecture. Selected from the top students of their class, the members of Scarab furthered their interests in the field of architecture by carrying out various projects in the fraternity sponsored Experimental Structures Club. Research into the uses of fiberglass led to the building of experimental domes. New forms are being investigated with the idea of eventually moving into a structure of their own design.

Meetings for the year included a field trip to Rookwood Pottery, informal seminars and conferences with professors, and slide lectures by members who have toured Japan, Korea, and Europe.

Annual events feature a sketch competition and a picnic held in the spring of the year in honor of the seniors.

Alpha Alpha Pi

ALPHA CHAPTER of Alpha Alpha Pi was founded at the University of Cincinnati in 1921. One of the founders, Miss Laura E. Rosnagle, is Dean of the College of Nursing and Health. The twelve members of the nursing honor society meet monthly in Logan Hall. On Honors Day an award was presented by the society to the outstanding freshman nursing student. The threefold purpose of Alpha Alpha Pi is to promote scholarship, to increase standards among nurses in the profession, and to promote friendship.

Alpha Chi Sigma

ALPHA DELTA chapter of Alpha Chi Sigma appeared on the UC campus in 1917, but was established nationally in 1912 at Wisconsin.

Their purpose is to bring together students of chemistry and similar subjects into a fraternal order. Most of their members are chemical engineers in the Engineering College although some are Arts and Science chemistry majors.

As usual, the project this year is the presentation of the Farnan Award to an outstanding student.

CHI EPSILON ROW 1 — L. Palmer, D. Ivers, C. Meyers. ROW 2 — R. Long, G. Style, A. Barkoczy.

Chi Epsilon

JUNIORS IN the upper sixth and seniors in the upper third of their respective classes are eligible for membership in Chi Epsilon, civil engineering honor society. The Cincinnati Chapter initiates new members twice a year. A new initiate of note was Raymond Renn, professor of co-ordination.

Civil engineers find Chi Epsilon's most recent project, a tri-sectional bulletin board listing CE activities, a constant source of information. They continued their running account of all CE averages.

Eta Kappa Nu

THE GOAL of all electrical engineering students is Eta Kappa Nu, their national honor society. Members are selected from those in the top tenth, fourth and third of their pre-junior, junior, and senior years respectively. They feel their members can help improve the standards of their profession and likewise become better men and better citizens.

The highlights of the year are the handbook presentation to the Honor Junior and the Senior Party given with the members of AIEE.

Pi Chi Epsilon

MEMBERSHIP in Pi Chi Epsilon, an honor society for junior and senior women in Bus. Ad. and Engineering, is based on scholarship, activities, and service to the college. The thirteen members met once each section in the Student Union.

A strawberry breakfast, an introductory tea, and the spring banquet are annual social events. A rummage sale helped finance the awarding of a scholarship to a high school senior girl. A Pi Chi ring is awarded annually to the outstanding senior girl co-op.

Alpha Phi Omega

DELTA ALPHA chapter of Alpha Phi Omega has its membership open only to those former Boy Scouts who wish to continue in the scouting spirit. In this way they hope to serve the campus, the community, and their fraternity.

At Christmas time they held a city-wide toy drive, repaired the toys, and then distributed them to needy children's organizations.

To end a full year of activity, a banquet was held during the spring.

Arnold Air Society

ARNOLD AIR is a national Air Force honor society that was founded on the University of Cincinnati campus in 1947 and now has 170 chapters. The purpose of the group is to further interest in aviation. Its members are selected on scholarship, membership in advanced AFROTC program, character, and leadership. The yearly program includes two dances, participation in the military formals, and work with Scouting. The men of Arnold Air are proud to belong to this largest military honor society.

AFROTC Rifle Team

FOR THE cadets who enjoy competitive shooting, the AFROTC Rifle Team provides the opportunity of competing against cadets from other universities in both shoulder-to-shoulder and postal matches.

Under the leadership of Cadet Charles Shadron, the team is composed primarily of freshman cadets. The team participated in the Ohio State AFROTC Invitational match competing against twenty colleges. National competition included the William Randolph Hearst and the Secretary of the Air Force matches.

Scabbard and Blade

ROTC MEMBERS in the advanced program may belong to Scabbard and Blade if their scholarship, service, character, and leadership is acceptable. Once members, they begin to carry out its purposes which are to develop qualities of an officer, and to prepare for leadership in civilian life. The first captain was UC's Dean Geist. Many of Scabbard and Blade's activities are with members of Guidon. Both organizations march at football games, have social meetings, and work together to give service to the University.

Guidon

GUIDON, a service auxiliary to Scabbard and Blade, recognizes junior women outstanding in their scholastic work and service to the University. Wearing their red jackets and blue skirts, they could be seen ushering at University convocations and marching at the UC-Wichita game.

Guidon went through a period of reorganization this fall; new officers will be juniors, instead of seniors. During the national election, Guidon urged students to register and vote.

ROTC Rifle Team

EXPERT marksmanship plays a small but important part in ROTC training and the rifle team which represents the cadets displays these abilities.

Competing with many of the nearby universities, the rifle team also competes in postal matches in which the scores are exchanged with other colleges by mail through the ROTC headquarters.

Besides these matches, the sharpshooters joined other ROTC units in the William Randolph Hearst and the National ROTC matches.

COL. ROBERT J. MARTIN

ROTC Administration

RESERVED Officers' Training is an important part of the preparation for adequately trained officers. On the UC campus both Air Force and Army ROTC are offered. Colonel Williamson began his military career in 1935 and was active in World War II. He is now Administrator of the AFROTC program.

Colonel Robert Martin is professor of military science and is administrator of the AROTC program. His interest in marksmanship stimulated the development of the new rifle range available to ROTC men.

Military Ball

PR'S DRILL TEAM EXECUTES THE QUEEN ANN'S MANUAL OF ARMS AS PART OF INTERMISSION ENTERTAINMENT AT THE MILITARY BALL.

DOLLY TROTTMAN, 1956-57 Honorary Cadet Colonel.

THE ROTC sponsored two military balls with all their usual splendor and tradition. At both events the audience was entertained by expert marching procedures and precision drills perfected by the cadets. They produced a colorful and unique display with their artful routines. The spring formal was the highlight of the year with the presentation of the Guidon pledges and the Honorary Cadet Colonel. Guidon is a junior women's honor society and an auxiliary to Scabbard and Blade.

After the pledges were crowned, the candidates were escorted through a saber arch, and the 1957-58 Honorary Cadet Colonel was announced. Receiving the traditional trophy, flowers, and saber, she was congratulated by Miss Dolly Trottman, of Theta Phi Alpha, the retiring Honorary Cadet Colonel.

Affiliations

Affiliations, both the sororities and fraternities and the organized independent groups, are to their members experiences in co-operation and loyalty. Co-ordinating the Greeks' social activities are their governing bodies, Panhellenic and Interfraternity Councils.

Panhellenic Council

THE TREMENDOUS job of co-ordinating the sororities is that of the Panhellenic Council. As the regulating and governing body, it sets up rushing rules and schedules, and decides upon pledging dates.

The members of Panhell, hoping to spread the spirit of cooperation among all sorority members, instigated the Panhell Exchange Dinner held in the fall. All the Greek women participating received wonderful dinners and enjoyed an enlightening evening. The Council's service project is a foster child.

Inter-Sorority House Council

COMPOSING THE Inter-Sorority House Council are 12 girls, one from each sorority on campus. This governing body meets once monthly to set up the rules by which the sorority houses are governed and to discuss various problems of their sorority sisters.

Sorority houses and the women's dormitory maintain the same closing hours and rules about late nights for their respective residents. Through this council, in cooperation with Panhellenic, a spirit of unity is promoted among the sororities.

ALPHA DELTA PI began its 1956-57 year by pledging 19 girls, who started accumulating pledge points for good grades, joining activities, and doing work around the house. Social events of the fall season included a hayride at Virginia Lodge, the pledge formal at Twin Lanterns, and a float party during Homecoming. Service projects included a Christmas party for orphans and caroling at hospitals.

During spring a Mother-Daughter Founders' Day Banquet, the spring formal, and a senior breakfast were held. The 58 members of Beta Pi chapter closed an eventful year, looking forward to their biennial convention to be held in the Bahamas this year.

THE TWENTY-ONE new pledges of Alpha Chi teamed up with the actives in winning the Homecoming Float contest to begin a busy year.

Firesides, open houses, and campaigning filled the fall season, as Sue Habegger was chosen Queen of Sophos, succeeding last year's queen, Jaye Marioni. Before the excitement calmed down, Leva Richardson was selected by the band as their new sponsor. Christmas found the Alpha Chis caroling at General Hospital and then having a party of their own.

The biggest dream of the Alpha Chis is to see the beginning of their proposed new six room addition to their house and the remodeling of the interior.

THE ALPHA GAM Chapter of Alpha Gamma Delta indeed has had a busy year. With plans for floats, numerous parties, and the usual schedule of exchange dinners, they squeezed in time for their Christmas formal, held in honor of their new pledges.

The sorority has always worked with and helped the children suffering with cerebral palsy. Among a varied program for them was a Christmas party and raising money for a scholarship given to a person interested in teaching these handicapped children.

At the spring formal the chapter announced their selection of the Alpha Gam man of the year, and awarded the Alice Laws pin to the outstanding junior.

THETA ETA chapter of Alpha Omicron Pi was very active this past year, starting off with a costume party for which all actives and their dates came dressed as various themes.

At Christmas time the AOPi's held their annual formal honoring all their pledges and, at the spring formal, likewise honored all their new initiates.

Coke parties reigned supreme for there were many such parties throughout the year. A Mother-Daughter Tea was held in the spring. Here, fellowship was enjoyed by actives, pledges, and mothers.

AOPi is looking forward to the convention at the Edgewater Beach in Chicago this summer.

"AND WHEN you see that bug on me, you'll know Chi O!" The pledge class of 1956 had a right to be proud of their pins, for honors and activities were plentiful. The ATO's started the honor ball rolling by choosing Gail Fullen as Sweepstakes Girl.

November 3 saw the Chi O's, Phi Deltas, and Sigs doing their best to remind everyone that the National Litterbug Campaign was in full swing.

All was not work though, for with Christmas near they honored their pledges at the annual Christmas formal. At the spring Eleusinian Banquet, celebrating their founding, the Marie Anita pin was awarded to the outstanding sophomore.

SERVICE as well as social activities made the Tri Deltas attract campus-wide attention as they carried out a full year of events.

Maintaining their tradition of leadership, the Tri Deltas had members in nearly every organization and were tapped for numerous honor societies. This campus-wide participation was demonstrated by their winning of the 1956 Metro trophy for attendance.

The Tri Deltas entertained all sorority pledges at a pledge tea and honored the outstanding senior woman at their annual Pansy Luncheon.

Tri Deltas reigned as sweethearts of Lambda Chi and Pi Kappa Alpha.

OVER THE summer, Delta Zeta added Delta Sigma Epsilon, a Panhellenic Teachers College Sorority, to its roster. This made Delta Zeta the largest sorority chapterwise in the nation. The new chapter at Marshall College in Huntington, West Virginia, was installed by the Delta Zeta's of UC this fall.

Campus activities also kept DZ busy. During the summer the basement of the house was remodeled just in time for rush. Social affairs, such as a hayride, boat ride, formals, and a Dad's Day Party afforded a break in the daily routine.

At the spring formal the annual awards were given to the outstanding members of the sorority.

FRIVOLITY AND seriousness have been successfully blended this year by the Thetas, who devoted their collective time and effort to many projects.

Jane Replogle, Barb Brown, and the pledge class were among those adding trophies to the Theta collection, being selected Homecoming Queen, Sophos queen attendant, and Sweepstakes' winners.

Founders' Day Banquet, honoring the four who established Theta as the first women's Greek letter sorority; the VCP Dinner, held in recognition of the local founders; and the Easter egg hunt, given with Lambda Chi for underprivileged children were traditional events meaning much to the Cincinnati Thetas.

THROUGHOUT the year, the Kappa Deltas held numerous events and the most exciting was the Senior Revolt held at one of the last meetings. Extensively planned by the seniors, it was anticipated by all. Each class of seniors tries to out-do the preceding class. While the seniors are gone, the rest of the chapter secretly plans a surprise party for them.

Another intriguing event was the "Pinned Man Supper." The girls' pinmates were honored at a delicious buffet supper, served by the KD's.

At the Initiation Banquet two outstanding seniors were honored; one for service to the University and the other for service to Kappa Delta.

THE KAPPA HOUSE on Clifton Avenue again had a busy year, beginning with an active rush season. Sixty-six Kappas cheered as their Homecoming entry was announced as one of the winning floats. The fall continued with exchange dinners and sweetheart parties, in addition to their scholarship program. They enjoyed Founder's Day and a formal at Christmas time.

The spring found the Kappa pledges initiated, and extensive work at youth centers. A new house-mother made herself a part of Kappa living and was presented to campus at a tea. The formal with Tri Delt and a senior banquet climaxed a successful year.

THE INTERIOR of the Theta Phi house received a new look at the beginning of the school year. Two upstairs bedrooms in addition to the living and dining rooms were redecorated. The basement was painted so that the Tuesday night meetings could be held there.

A Christmas party is held every year at which the members of Theta Phi Alpha collect food to be given to their National Philanthropy, Glenmary Missions. At the Pledge Formal, the winner of the annual Theta Phi Sweetie Pie contest was announced and presented with a gift and a large trophy.

Theta Phi also holds a combination Father's Club, alumni and active dance and a Mother's breakfast.

THROUGHOUT the year the women of Trianon contributed to campus activity through their cooperation with the other independent organizations at UC. The tradition of cooperation was exemplified at Christmas-time by giving food baskets to the needy.

Trianon's annual Founders Day Banquet was held in December. Many alumnae returned for this occasion, at which the outstanding senior member of the chapter was honored.

The high point in the year's schedule of meetings, parties, and dances was the National Convention. At this time Trianon members from several universities gather to exchange ideas and friendships.

AFTER A successful rushing season, the new Zeta pledges held their annual Pledge Prince Dance. There, Dick Mohaupt was chosen to reign, with George Evans and Stu Richard chosen as the Knights In Armor. Other social events included a spring and Christmas formal, firesides, and open houses.

The Zeta's projects included a scholarship to a deserving Teachers College student and contributions from dues for the National Cerebral Palsy Fund.

Ellen Harris, a member of the local Alpha Eta chapter, appeared on the cover of the Zeta Tau Alpha national magazine, "Themis," modeling one of the dresses from the Helen of Troy Contest.

INTERFRATERNITY Council, consisting of two men from each fraternity, is organized to co-ordinate male Greek activities on campus and to provide a central body for communication. IFC is concerned with problems and improvements in scholarship, social activities, University, community, and fraternity service. This year, under the guidance of Bill Michel, IFC sent four delegates to the National Interfraternity Council in New York to discuss the topic—"The Responsibilities of the IFC."

This fall Phi Kappa Tau, a national fraternity, colonized on UC's campus and became a non-voting member on IFC. "Hermes," Voice of the Greeks, became an important project to fraternity men as it was the first Greek newspaper supplying information to all Greeks on campus about the activities of the fraternities and sororities.

IN ORDER TO encourage unity and spirit among newly selected Greek men, each fraternity sends two members of the pledge class, usually the president and a representative, to the Interfraternity Pledge Council. The group elects officers from the delegates to lead them for the school year and to officiate at the monthly meetings. Most of the efforts of the individuals in the organization are combined in planning for the annual IFPC dance. This event, held in mid-winter, is called "The Big Brother Dance" and is presented so that each pledge may honor his "big brother." Other projects include campus work sessions and pledge intramural tournaments.

IFPC was organized on the basis that if pledges of different fraternities can work together, they will become actives who respect other Greeks.

THE ANNUAL Sweepstakes contest in the fall has become a high spot on campus as well as on the ATO's social calendar. The many unusual contests participated in by sorority pledges serve as an informal coming-out day for these new freshmen.

General service to the community was undertaken by the fraternity in the form of "Help Week." The ATO's were the first fraternal organization in the nation to engage in such a project.

The ATO's display depicting a raging forest fire with sound effects, won the top spot in the Fire Prevention Week Contest. Coupled with a round of social trimmings the members enjoyed a satisfying year.

THE BETA NU Chapter of Beta Theta Pi had a very active year. While stressing grades, they remained active on campus and held to their purpose: to build an appreciation of the idealistic life.

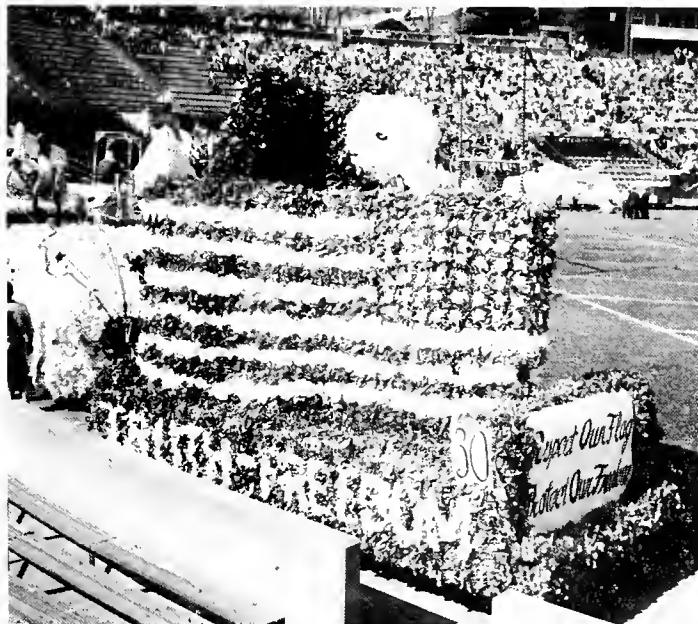

During the Christmas holidays, Beta gave their annual party at the house, complete with refreshments, presents, and Santa for orphans.

Another yearly event crowded into a busy schedule is the Father and Son Banquet, which does much to strengthen ties of brotherhood within the family.

The spring welcomed "the greatest weekend of all," which is wound around the Beta formal and the Beta's dates taking over the house.

THE LAMBDA CHI's added another trophy to their collection by winning the Homecoming Float Parade with "Cinderella, Bewitching Lady."

The climax of the successful year was the traditional spring formal, at which Gwen Pease, this year's sweetheart, presented the sweetheart pin to the new "White Rose Girl."

Members can claim as famous local alumni former Mayor Carl Rich, Judge Chase Davies, City Manager Harrill, and Dean Ralph Bursiek.

WITH FORTY-SEVEN new pledges, the Phi Deltas began another successful year with the traditional Phikeia Carnival open to all fraternity and sorority pledges. The Zetas gave the Phis additional honor when they crowned Dick Mohaupt Pledge Prince.

Active in nearly every campus organization, the Phi Deltas managed to keep their position of leadership not only in politics but also finished near the top in intramurals and have consistently placed in the University Sing for the last ten years, winning half of that time.

Spring brought carnival time with the Phi Deltas again holding their side show for Sigma Sigma.

THE "NEW LOOK" can be seen at the Pi Kappa Alpha house this year. The men demonstrated their remodeling skill in building a patio and barbecue fireplace in the rear of the house. Other redecorating in the dining hall and kitchen has made the house the pride of the Pikes.

Activities were numerous and varied for the UC chapter. At Christmas the members of PiKA gave their annual Christmas party for underprivileged children. The Pledge-Active Party held later in the year was a big success. With spring upon them the "notorious" Section Change Party was held, bringing to end a year of both brotherhood and service.

WITH THE completion of a most successful and enthusiastic rush season, the Sig Alphs initiated a good start in what was to be a very successful year. A trophy in the float competition and the intramural football championship in the fall were part of this year full of events. Continuing their policy of active campus leadership in organizations, the men of SAE were honored in having men tapped for ODK, Sigma Sigma, Metro, and other campus honor groups.

Justifiable pride in the beautiful addition to their spacious house prompted an open house for the whole campus. Social events, including numerous parties, a formal, and a house party, ended the full year.

THIS WAS a year of new and traditional events for the Zeta Psi chapter of Sigma Chi. Uppermost in the mind of every Sig, as far as his social calendar was concerned, was the Sweetheart Formal.

Increasing the Sigs' social tide even more were the festivities held to commemorate the Cincinnati chapter's seventy-fifth anniversary.

State Day, an innovation to Ohio's Sig chapters, met with the enthusiastic approval of every Ohio Sig attending the giant celebration.

The "Urchin Party" for underprivileged children, the "Watermelon Bust," and many other parties made every member resolve, "To be a Sig is our delight."

FROM SOCIAL affairs to public service, the Sig Eps retained the united effort which brought them the Metro trophy last year for attendance.

Raccoon coats and flapper style clothes became the accepted dress at the Prohibition Party, while the Ambitions Party gave each person the chance to come dressed as his secret desire. Seeing red was only natural at the "Go to Hades" Party where all came in various shades of crimson.

Each year Sigma Phi Epsilon sponsors a Boys Camp; and during the Christmas season the local chapter entertained underprivileged children. A scholarship fund was established for deserving students.

ACACIA again strove for a brotherhood of all men by living up to traditional Masonic ideals, which serve as a guide for the fraternity.

An important social activity of the year was the annual "Night of the Nile." On this occasion, all in attendance dressed as ancient Egyptians; decorations carrying out the theme of old Egypt made the atmosphere complete.

The fraternity's seasonal affairs included Yule time entertainment for orphans and the spring formal, when the graduating seniors were honored.

Looking toward the future, the Acacias are planning a new chapter house on their present lot.

THE AMERICAN Commons Club, a non-discriminative fraternity which was founded at Denison in 1917 and established on the UC campus in November of 1926, has three policies among its main ideals: non-Greek letter fraternities; the open-door policy; and, above all, placing the University first.

The men of ACC participated in the intramural sport program and the Homecoming float competition. Their rushing schedule provided three exciting parties, one of which had a Monte Carlo theme. Included in the year's activities were numerous informal parties held at the house and the Christmas formal with the music of Bill Schwartzer's combo.

THE BETA SIGMA chapter of Alpha Sigma Phi is unique on the UC campus in that it is the only fraternity which has been reactivated.

Two events held by the Alpha Sigs which fall into the "annual" category are the "Sig Bust" dinner given to honor the fraternity's alumni, and the Black and White Formal. At Christmas the men of Alpha Sig had a party to provide toys for underprivileged children. Founders' Day included a dinner and an auto trip to a neighboring college in the state.

This year, as in past years, Alpha Sig entered into intramurals, and also placed high in fraternity scholastic averages.

THIS YEAR both pledges and actives of Delta Tau Delta were introduced to the fraternity's three "news," which were new first floor furniture, a new parking lot, and a new housemother. Although their chef was not new, the Deltas were quite proud of him; for he is reputed to be the best around UC.

The men of Delta Tau Delta participated in many activities throughout the year which included intramurals, sorority serenades, and a Christmas party which the fraternity holds annually for a group of Cincinnati orphans. The fraternity's chapter awards were presented at the Spring Formal, which was one of the three formals held during the year.

THE PHI KAPPAS ended another successful rush season by taking forty-five pledges. These pledges honored their parents with the annual Parents' Day at the house and were honored themselves at the Christmas formal. One of the pledge projects was decorating the UC and visitors' goal posts during the football season; the actives' projects included running several booths at the St. Aloysius festival.

The annual senior banquet, at which time a silver key was presented to each senior, was a highlight in the Phi Kaps' program. The year was climaxed by the dinner for their sweetheart candidates and the dance at which the winner was crowned.

THE MEMBERS of the Ohio Mu chapter of Pi Lambda Phi felt that they started the year successfully with a good rushing season. Their pledges built furniture for retarded children as their project.

Spring was an interesting part of the year for the Pi Lams, for it was the season for many of their activities, including the annual initiation banquet. The active and pledge with the highest scholarship and the members with the most improved scholarship were presented trophies at this time.

This year the Pi Lams were hosts to the Indiana chapter of Pi Lambda Phi. This special occasion offered team games and a dance in the evening.

RUSHES, pledges, and finally actives, Sigma Alpha Mu brothers recall an eventful scholastic, social, and athletic year, Sammies honored their dates by serenading prior to Founder's Day Formal. Later in the year, they honored worthy members at the Alumni Dinner Dance, Honors which went to Sammies' men; President of Mummers, Knight of ZTA Pledge Prince Formal, cheerleaders, tribunal members, and ODK.

With the precepts of true manhood, democracy, and humanity, Sigma Alpha Mu has maintained a high scholastic average in addition to active participation in intramurals and campus leadership.

SPRING Weekend, the most outstanding event of the year for Theta Chi, got underway with a hayride on Friday night. A picnic on Saturday was followed by the formal that evening, at which the Dream Girl was announced. Reigning this year was Jo Hendrickson. The swimming party held on Sunday afternoon, culminated the weekend festivities.

A great tradition carried on by the Theta Chi's is a dunking of the pledges and engaged or pinned men in their own private fish pond.

Pledges and actives enjoy competition when they clash in their traditional basketball and football games. The teams combine to meet the Miami chapter,

TRIANGLE, a fraternity for engineering and architectural students, was founded in August of 1921 on the University campus. Among the purposes that its members support are upholding the professions that they represent, and preserving and promoting the spirit of fellowship.

The men of Triangle found that they could combine fun with good will and service when they and their dates gave a party for the orphans at the Children's Home during the Christmas season.

The purely social side of the year's activities included the spring formal, the annual boatride, and the alumni banquet.

Freshman students were invited to join through a dance held in the Union, and a hayride to Venice, Ohio was held for the new members.

Christmas time brought a caroling party at the Bishop Reese home in Clifton and a dance held at the Millercoff Inn in Milford.

Social events are held after nearly every meeting and this year AIS entered volleyball and basketball teams in the co-recreational programs.

Residence Halls

The residence halls serve a basic need of their members — living facilities. Within this need arise basic problems and auxiliary needs which become the duties of the dormitory council to solve and provide. Living on campus is a way of being part of the University and her way of life.

THIS YEAR at Memorial Residence Hall for Women saw many new additions to dorm living, including a revision of the demerit system. The Cabinet, which is the governing body of the Association of Dormitory Women, installed a more elaborate food service. Sponsoring a freshman girl for the Sophos Queen competition and a girl for the Junior Prom Queen contest were dorm "firsts."

Along with the many open houses and a faculty tea, the girls had quite an active social calendar. A fall picnic for new students, a Halloween party, a Christmas party with French Dorm. coffee breaks during exam studying, a spring party, and a picnic for seniors were among the many events of the year. All these activities are a part of the program which is intended to make girls feel that the dorm is a "home away from home."

HELPING TO unite and provide social outlets for dorm residents, the French Residence Hall Council planned a full year of activities for its members. The council assists in problems of the dorm, and is elected from the approximately 450 male students housed in the dormitory.

French Hall entered the Homecoming parade with their white swan float which was built around a Valentine's Day theme, and also backed a candidate for Kampus King. Working closely with Memorial Dorm, the men of French Hall held an informal dance each section and campus-wide open houses during the football season.

The spirit of Davy Crockett still graces campus athletic events in the form of the French Dorm cheering section. Athletic equipment is available to French Hall residents, who entered strong teams in this year's intramurals.

Religious Groups

Religion forms an important part of the lives of many people. It follows then that the University should be accessory to the interest of her students through her religious organizations, which create a composition of spiritual guidance, meditation, service, and fellowship.

World University Service

WITH THE belief that education is a step toward world peace and security, the World University Service attempts to aid foreign students by raising funds for use at their own universities. Represented on college campuses, WUS is a national organization which helps students to buy books and other supplies.

At UC a campus-wide drive was held to help Hungarian students who had fled to Austria in the October rebellion. WUS again held an auction, awarding individual services to the highest bidder.

Religious Emphasis Week

RELIGIOUS EMPHASIS Week plays a key role in the strengthening of the spiritual side of UC students. Nearly every hour during the week was devoted to events such as daily breakfasts, seminars and coffee hours. An all-University convocation was held featuring a priest, minister and rabbi speaking on the religious aspects of college life. Fraternity and sorority members heard Major General Carpenter, chief of the Air Force Chaplains, speak on the threat of communism to religion during organization night.

Student Religious Council

WITH THE purpose of promoting better understanding and closer co-operation between religious groups, the Student Religious Council has done an outstanding job in awakening campus spiritual life.

Under the leadership of Dave Zuverink, the Council worked through Religious Emphasis Week, World University Service, and the Panel of Americans, in an effort to acquaint members of the foundations with the aims and purposes of these related groups. SRC sponsored the Thanksgiving and Easter services.

Canterbury Association

FOUNDED FOUR years ago, the Canterbury Association is made up of students who are members or interested in the Episcopal faith. The association was established nationally at Cranbrook School.

Weekly meetings are held at the home of their chaplain, the Reverend Donald Amussen with students from the College of Conservatory of Music.

During Christmas a party was held for the ladies of the Bishop Reese Home and in the spring funds were raised for Hungarian Relief.

Christian Science

ANOTHER newcomer to campus, the Christian Science Organization was introduced to freshmen students at an informal get-acquainted tea. Established to provide spiritual and social fellowship for those interested in Christian Science, the group participated in all the activities sponsored by the Student Religious Council including Religious Emphasis Week.

At one of the weekly testimonials held at the YMCA, the organization had as a guest, Clifford Nysewander, CBS, of the Board of Lectureship.

Lutheran Foundation

DURING THE first year of its existence, the newly formed Lutheran Foundation has endeavored to unite the Lutheran students on campus by providing various religious activities and fellowship.

The Foundation worked with the Student Religious Council in planning Religious Emphasis Week and began to participate in the many activities of the other religious organizations on campus.

The Lutheran Foundation hopes to enlarge their program for the future and find a house of their own.

HILLEL Foundation sponsors religious, cultural, and social functions for Jewish students at the University. Friday evening programs included Sabbath services conducted by the students, followed by cultural programs and social dancing. Theodore Berry and Roy Dickerson, who spoke on "Social Justice" and "Interfaith Marriages", respectively, highlighted this year's program.

Sunday evening activities consisted of general member meetings, buffet dinners with Rabbis Stanley Bray and Hyman Cohen, and movies.

A hayride, open houses after the football games, picnic buffets, interfaith REW service, and Wednesday noon luncheons at the house on Straight Street were special Hillel events this year.

The house is always open for study, gossip, or records.

THE FOREMOST facet of the Newman Club is providing for the spiritual welfare of Catholic students at the University. Cultural and social welfare is also the concern of the group which is a chartered member of the National Newman Club Federation. This year the Cincinnati chapter was host to the Ohio State Newman Clubs Convention.

During the Lenten season most social engagements are cancelled and guest speakers from various Catholic organizations are invited to the club to lecture. These discussions are followed by question and answer periods. A series of classes and discussion groups on the liturgy of the Church and the Mass was inaugurated this year.

A host of parties launched by a fall dance and culminated by a spring formal completed the social facet. Newman Club also participated in intramurals.

THE WESLEY Foundation, the student center of the Methodist Church, strives to develop the student spiritually, intellectually, and socially. The Pastor Director, the Reverend Mr. Jack D. Stephenson, and Program Coordinator, Mrs. Harold Scheele, lead the group to the realization of these purposes. In its program, Wesley provides opportunity for worship, counsel with the Pastor, and study of one's faith. It hopes to develop the whole person, in order to create the kind of community God intends.

With a complete program, including a seminar on Tuesday, vespers on Wednesday, 12:30 Club on Thursday, fellowship on Friday, the center accomplishes its purposes. Sunday, its biggest day, begins with a round table and worship at a near-by church and ends with an evening supper and forum. The building is open at all times.

WESTMINSTER Foundation, or "Westy" as it is referred to by its members, is a religious group sponsored by the Presbyterian Church. The weekly activities held at the house on Clifton Avenue included the Freshman Club, the supper forum, pre-theological Bible study, and discussion groups. The Reverend Richard Van Deusen is the foundation's spiritual adviser.

Besides the numerous weekly events at Westy there are others that occur each year. The banquet held in February was given jointly by the Foundation and the Commuters' Council of Presbyterian Churches. All who went to the Spring Leadership Retreat agreed on its worth; enough fun was mixed with more serious devotional services to create the right balance of good fellowship, a special characteristic of all Westminster meetings.

ONE OF the most active and largest women's groups on campus is the University YWCA, averaging 300 members. The Freshman Camp held this fall at Camp Lenmary helped new women to become acquainted with each other and with college life. Weekly group meetings are held at noon at the "Y" on Calhoun Street as is the monthly all-membership.

In the fall, the YW members asked their professors to the Apple Polishing Luncheon at the Union. A traditional Yule Log service at Christmas time and the Marriage Clinic in the spring were accomplished through the combined efforts of the YWCA and YMCA.

Later in the year the University YWCA sponsored a dinner for all members and their mothers. The YWCA and its many activities is a uniting factor for campus women and they are drawn closer by its Christian ideals.

THE YMCA exists to help provide a fellowship of men associated with the University, united by a common bond of Christian principles, determined by a common effort to employ them in the responsibilities of life. The annual Freshman Camp, under the leadership of John Stoelting, was, as always, a good way to start a successful year of fellowship. The fall membership drive held early in October was concluded with the Y U Dinner with Dr. J. Gordon Howard, president of Oberlin College, as the guest speaker.

The traditional Yule Log service sponsored jointly with the YW was combined with Y Day. In February the YM and YW presented the Marriage Clinic and in April convened at Camp Glenmary to plan next year's program of activities, joint programs, and discussions. The spring banquet, served by YW members, concluded the year.

Professional and Departmental Groups

CADUCEA IS a campus wide organization which is open to all students interested in medical science. It was founded six years ago on the UC campus.

The purpose of Caducea is to stimulate an appreciation of the importance of premedical education in the study of medicine, to encourage excellence in scholarship, to promote co-operation between medical students, students in allied fields, and prominent educators. It is dedicated to bind together similarly interested students by means of scholastic, advisory, and social programs.

At the monthly meetings a guest speaker is featured, and he is generally either a physician or professor. Two parties were held this past year at which time the professors gave a skit about the students and the students presented skits about the professors.

MEMBERSHIP in the Classics Club is open to anyone on campus who has an interest in the classical studies. Faculty, graduates, and undergraduates participate in the meetings that are held once a month at the home of a member. The meetings are of a social nature and the program features a paper on some general subject within the area of classics such as literature, archaeology, and history. Occasionally movies and slides of places of interest in Greece are shown; and when the topic is literature, Greek tragedy is discussed.

In addition to the monthly meetings, there are other events, among them the Christmas party. At this annual highlight, comical gifts are exchanged. As a climax to the activities of the school year, Classics Club enjoyed a spring picnic.

WOMEN IN the co-operative colleges, Applied Arts, Business Administration, and Engineering, may participate in the Co-Ep Club. Interested in promoting friendships among women from colleges widely separated on the University campus, the group meets many times throughout the year in the Union.

Working one section, attending school the next, Co-Eps found time to relax at a skating party and their annual fall banquet, held in December. The spring banquet honored senior members.

Delta Sigma Pi

DELTA SIGMA PI, the largest professional business fraternity in the country, was established at UC on May 21, 1921. The fraternity, primarily a professional group, acts as a service organization by sponsoring the blood bank and information booths during registration for incoming freshmen.

The main social function of the year is the "Rose of Delta Sig Dance" at which time a sweetheart is chosen to represent the chapter nationally. This dance took place March 9 at Greenhills Country Club.

UPPERCLASSMEN in the College of Business Administration and the Evening College of Commerce are eligible to become members of the oldest national professional fraternity in the field of commerce. Alpha Kappa Psi was founded in 1904 at New York University. Being interested in furthering the individual welfare of its members, the fraternity tries to promote and advance in institutions of college rank, courses leading to degrees in business administration, and to foster scientific research in the fields of commerce, accounts, and finance.

The Eta Chapter had two main social events this year. Last summer the Active-Alumni Picnic proved to be a great success, while in the spring the members were found to be having a gay time dancing to the tunes played at the Phoenician Ball.

SINCE 1908, the American Institute of Electrical Engineers combined with the Institute of Radio Engineers has grown until it now numbers about seventy members, most of whom are electrical engineers.

AIEE-IRE participated actively in the Professional Guidance series sponsored by the Engineering College and presented three different scholarships to deserving students. Each year an award is given for the best technical report entered in the competition.

The institute's meetings are informal and feature movies, lectures, and field trips to electrical industries. Combining with Eta Kappa Nu, a stag party was held for all senior electrical engineers.

A NATION-WIDE organization in the field of civil engineering, the American Society of Civil Engineers has chapters throughout the United States with student chapters established at most colleges and universities offering this field of study.

The year's activities for UC's chapter consisted of lectures and movies in their vocation, a Freshman Smoker, and the annual senior picnic held at Sharon Woods. A dinner and joint meeting of the senior and student chapters of the Cincinnati Section was held on February 6 in the Student Union. Each meeting featured an informal discussion led by a professor or practicing engineer.

THE AMERICAN Society of Mechanical Engineers provides a feeling of fellowship and unity among the mechanical engineering students as well as acquainting them with the parent organization.

Established in 1911, the society attempts to bridge the gap between the student and practicing engineer by providing lectures by prominent men in the profession and informal meetings between professors and the students. Inspection trips to industrial plants are scheduled, besides the regular meetings held at least twice a section in the YMCA building.

Section change parties are held every seven weeks and a thesis competition is sponsored in the spring.

AIChE

COMPOSED of chemical and metallurgical engineers, AIChE sponsored noon movies as a weekly feature. Occasionally the departmental group presented a professional engineer in industry as a speaker. The chapter played host to the AIChE regional convention in April.

The concessions in the Chemistry Building are handled by the organization, and are available to students. Profits from these go into the buying of new equipment and a scholarship fund for engineers.

IAS

THE INSTITUTE of Aeronautical Science is a professional organization concerned with the rapidly growing aircraft industry. Dr. Silvers from General Electric spoke at one of IAS's weekly meetings held in the Student Union.

IAS took part in UC Co-op Day, and the group made a field trip to Wright Field in Dayton. Besides a section change party and a picnic in the spring, several informal get-togethers were held during the year for the exchange of new ideas.

OSPE

TO UNIFY students of the various technical societies of engineering in one organization is the purpose of the Ohio Society of Professional Engineers. OSPE offers opportunity to learn of the aims and benefits of the engineering profession.

Meeting twice a session, the programs planned by the society included informal talks by professional men in industry and movies concerned with the new developments in the general engineering field. Frequent field trips were made to industrial firms.

Home Economics Club

THE HOME Economics Club was founded on campus in the year 1911. The main purposes of this club was to stimulate interest in this particular field and to develop unity of the college as a whole. Two representatives from the Child Development Club, Teacher Education Club, Business and Textile Club, and Food and Nutrition Club make up the Home Economics Club. The individual clubs give dinners which are the main social events of the year. The Home Ec Regional Conference was held here.

Kindergarten-Primary Club

UNDER THE leadership of Jo Perrine, the monthly meetings of Kindergarten-Primary Club were held at noon in the Union. Programs this year were planned to give advice to future teachers.

Mrs. Jones from the Home Economics department spoke on teaching and marriage, and a woman from the Public Library gave pointers on story-telling at two of the meetings. As its project for the year the group sent delegates to the Childhood Education Convention in Los Angeles, California.

Secondary Elementary Club

THE SECONDARY Elementary Club was organized so that future teachers in the intermediate grades and high school could meet together and share familiar experiences in teacher education. At their December meeting the club sponsored a panel of teachers who gave the group professional tips on what they might expect from their chosen field.

The SE Club expressed its civic awareness by sending baskets of food to a needy family and by giving a party for children at a local orphanage.

Under the capable leadership of Mary Busser, members participated individually in women's athletics, and the group met socially to enjoy their traditional Christmas party and spring banquet.

A camp-out in April proved quite an experience—even for Physical Education majors.

Phi Epsilon Kappa

PHI EPSILON Kappa is the only professional fraternity in the United States for those students majoring in physical education and health.

This honorary fraternity initiates new members in December and on March 20 participated in a combined initiation with Miami and the alumni chapter. At least two alums attended all home football games to act as hosts for the visiting teams. Other projects included the Founders' Day Banquet and helping with chest X-rays on campus.

AMERICAN Pharmaceutical Association was founded for students of pharmacy in 1868 in Washington, D. C. The purpose of A Ph A is to further the ethics of the profession of pharmacy.

This past winter they added to their social program a dance for all of the 225 student members. Each spring faculty and students enjoy a picnic.

Throughout the year the association edited the Pharmacy newspaper and sponsored open houses during Pharmacy Week and on High School Day. A Ph A also entered an exhibit in the Fire Prevention Week contest and set up an interesting display on pharmacy in the Student Union Bookstore window. Business is conducted at bi-monthly meetings. The group planned to attend their national convention in New York City this summer.

MEN IN Pharmacy of the Jewish faith may belong to Alpha Zeta Omega, world-wide professional fraternity. When the College of Pharmacy came on campus three years ago, the fraternity, determined to buy a house near campus, set up what they termed a sinking fund. This means that all money placed in the fund can not be withdrawn. In this way, AZO hopes to buy a house outright.

Student members and graduates who have continued in their interest in the fraternity have contributed in several ingenious ways to this house fund. Lynbar Laboratory, which is AZO owned and operated, produces drug items made according to their own formulas under the stipulations of the Pure Food and Drug Law. The profit from this project and others are added to the sinking fund. The fraternity meets every other Wednesday.

BETA PSI chapter of the national professional fraternity, Kappa Psi, was organized for sophomore, junior, and senior students in the College of Pharmacy. Bimonthly business meetings as well as professional meetings are held. The most important fall event was a smoker held for new pledges at the College.

All of the Kappa Psi's benefited from the trips that were taken to various Cincinnati pharmaceutical supply houses. By observing the procedures of these companies, pharmacy students widened their professional knowledge.

A national convention was held in St. Louis, Missouri, for all Kappa Psi chapters. Here in Ohio, the Ohio Northern Chapter became host to other Ohio and Pennsylvania chapters. All attending enjoyed the recreation that brought them closer to those in the profession.

The purpose of the club is to unite women students in pharmacy and acquaint them with the profession. Projects during this past year were focused on helping the Pharmacy College and students.

A yearly event, the Founders' Day Banquet, was held and all women pharmacy students and alumnae were invited to celebrate their founding.

IDSA

INDUSTRIAL Design Student Association was founded on UC's campus in 1951 to emphasize and promote the professional aspects of student activities.

The group's program is planned to foster unity and co-operation among students of industrial design and professional designers. This is carried out through field trips to industrial plants, design studios, and by scheduling speakers.

IDSA awards the Streamlined Anvil plaque to the outstanding industrial design student.

The next morning found the band parading proudly through the Capitol. That afternoon, all Cincinnatians were beaming with pride as the band and the Bear-Kittens performed at halftime for the Midshipmen of Annapolis.

Under the direction of Mr. Robert Hornyak, the band entertained at football games, basketball games and convocations. Along with the choir, the group took part in a winter concert.

On Thanksgiving Eve, a banquet was held at which the members of the band cast their votes for the new Band Sponsor, Leva Richardson.

ONE OF THE most improved clubs on campus this year was Intercollegiate Debators. Its thirty-five members were divided into eight teams consisting of two affirmative and two negative members. The club took numerous trips for debate to nearby colleges in Ohio, Kentucky, and Indiana. They returned the invitations and held debates here at the University.

A humorous debate on November 28 was the opening program of the 1956-57 Lecture Series. The topic to be resolved was: "Modern Art Is Disgusting, Degrading and Damnable." Four members of the faculty participated.

In February, two professors posed as Abraham Lincoln and Stephan A. Douglas to re-enact, in costume, the Lincoln-Douglas debate. Diane Shaver displayed original articles from her Lincoln collection.

The members of Glee Club sang at a wide variety of affairs this year. Early in November the group entertained at the Mother's Club luncheon in the Union. In December Glee Club took part in the dedication of the Christmas trees on the Square, besides presenting a holiday program on the "UC in the Home" show. Preceding every basketball game one member sang the national anthem. As its final appearance for the year Glee Club took part in the baccalaureate service in June.

Glee Club also has its social side. After a basketball game the group rented the grill for a party, and in June members and their dates had a banquet and a boatride.

This year Ed Ettin was president of the five divisions that make up Mummers Guild. The Carousel Theater group presents experimental plays in the round, while the Children's Theater stages productions for the public school children. The Public Relations group writes short dramas for radio and television, and the Drama Workshop aids in the personal improvement of the Mummers.

The Board of Publications is responsible for the policies of the publications. At the monthly meetings of the Board, reports from each publication are made concerning progress and problems that have been encountered. The Board compiles a guide for requirements and qualifications of the major positions on the respective staffs. In the spring staff members submit petitions and the publication editors for the next year are chosen.

Local chapters may choose those people who have made significant contributions to journalism at their college or university as nominees for a Medal of Merit award. UC Pi Delt award recipients in 1956 were Myrna Schear, James Grogg, and Dennis Mog.

Together, the publications entertained high school seniors interested in journalism at their spring High School Day. Most notable of all Pi Delt projects was the Publications Banquet in early May. At this time new editors were introduced and annual awards presented. A talk by a Cincinnati columnist concluded the evening.

STUDENTS on the Cincinnatian staff, yearbook publication of the University of Cincinnati, could be found pouring over the dummy any night of the week. Monday and Thursday evenings was scarcely enough time to schedule the endless amount of photographs, crop them to size, and meet engraver's deadlines.

The editing at first seemed monstrous—stacks of copy had to be written and rewritten, typing done, layouts planned, and piles of material copyread. Time grew short; deadlines crept up and caught the staffs unaware. There was always the last minute panic as the finishing touches were applied, the last proofreading done. Editors vanished for a long deserved rest when the book finally went to press in that long-awaited month, April.

WRITTEN BY and for the engineers, the Co-operative Engineer entered its thirty-fifth year of publication. Published quarterly, the magazine features articles of technical interest to the profession as well as science fiction and humor.

The problem of smog in Los Angeles and Sonar, the underwater detection device, were subjects discussed in a series of articles. Digital computers were featured in another article and each issue contained material of general interest to all students.

Engine Charlie, a fictitious character representing the typical engineering student gave humor to the magazine in cartoons of the engineering profession.

A spring party climaxed the year with the announcement of the new editor.

THE NEWS RECORD staff combining the efforts of the editor, business staff, and reporters produces an eight to ten page weekly newspaper out of what seems mass chaos. Work is abundant for the harassed editors besides the busy reporters. There are many pictures to crop, pages to make-up, articles to cut, headlines to count, and weekly trips to the printers to put the paper to bed.

The staff meets to review the latest issue each Friday. New and old ideas as well as criticisms are discussed in order to better the paper. The job of producing the newspaper is divided between the news and the business staff which plays a large part in the newspaper. The responsibility of completely handling financial matters rests in their hands.

PROFILE, the literary magazine, is published four times a year under the editorship of Mac Cato. The purpose of this magazine is to present literary material that will kindle student interest and will foster a clean, fresh, and forthright artistic spirit at the University of Cincinnati. It is also the intention of the Profile to be a reflection of the thinking of its student and faculty readers.

Profile is the magazine for young stylists on the campus who are interested in creative writing. Fiction certainly belongs in the publication, and prose and poetry are essential; informative articles and editorials are a must for the Profile. A dash of good humor makes for pleasant reading and a well-balanced college literary magazine that the Profile is.

STUDENT DIRECTORY. ROW 1—J. Meyer, C. Russley, L. Dingilian, S. Loeffler
ROW 2—R. Brill, M. Kohl, J. Potts, P. Argonbright, N. Schoenling, J. Longe

EDITING the Student Directory is an everlasting process of check and double check.

From the registration filer the IBM machine sheets arrive at room 106 in the Union. A complete list of the students' name, college, year of graduation, phone number, and home town is compiled. Such words as Cincinnati and street are abbreviated for the sake of economy. The lists are proofread at least three times before being sent to the printer.

When the list is returned it is proofed once again and returned to be bound. The book is distributed before Christmas and becomes one of the most useful and popular on campus. Knowing the names and numbers of all the players is important both to the business and social life of all students.

Student Government

Student government is present in various forms: student council, tribunals, and other organized groups — each with its executives and committees. It governs, whether it be in a formal or informal manner, with a definite purpose; it is an essential part of the University.

ALTHOUGH the Association of Women Students is usually introduced to the freshman women by a tea, this year that part of orientation was in the form of a mock convention. While something new was added, a former service, the sale of second-hand books by the AWS Used Book Store, was absorbed by the Union Book Store.

Another annual AWS event is the Strawberry Breakfast for senior women. One of the AWS's planned projects was an All-University Calendar which would show when all organizations have their meetings and it would enable activities to be co-ordinated. Each group on campus composed of 40 per cent women or more is represented on AWS, which sends delegates to the Intercollegiate Association of Women Students to learn more about the work of corresponding organizations from other colleges.

WITH THE approach of their last year at the University the spotlight falls upon the Senior Class and its capable officers. These officers were in charge of all senior activities which began with selecting chairmen of the many Senior Week activities. A first with the class was the Senior Prom, held Senior Week in the lobby of Music Hall. Originally the Prom took place in May. Class History, Will and Prophecy, and a booklet outlining Senior Week events were projects of the class officers.

Junior Class

THE OFFICERS of the Junior Class are selected by their class members for the purpose of knitting the Junior Class more closely together through meetings and organized projects. These men and women aim to promote more school and class spirit by encouraging their class to work for the good of U.C.

The many duties of the class officers include the planning and promotion of the Junior Prom and the sponsoring of the Ivy Day ceremony for the senior class during commencement week.

Sophomore Class

THE SOPHOMORE Class with one year's experience behind them ably undertook the responsibilities of their second year at the University. This year the class officers decided upon three projects during the year. The first was a migration day, on which the class took off to Miami to see a basketball game between the Redskins and the Bearcats. The second project was a party for underprivileged children. For their third activity the class sponsored a Jazz Concert in Wilson Auditorium.

Revision of the constitution has been a major project of the council which is made up of the Constitution, Grievance and Suggestion, Election and Budget committees.

The Student Council sponsored convocation in March, featured Nobel Prize winner, Sir Edward Appleton.

THE FOURTEEN members of the Applied Arts Tribunal, headed by President Charlie Day, met three times a section in the Student Union. The Tribunal regulates and co-ordinates the student activities within the College of Applied Arts and sponsors social functions for the hard-working artists, architects, and designers.

On the calendar as the first event of the year was a freshman mixer. A Contest, in which designs for new letterheads for the College stationary were submitted, was sponsored. The annual Christmas Egg Nog Party was again a treat. At the Beaux Arts Ball, a gala masquerade party attended solely by Applied Arts students, prizes for the most beautiful and most humorous costumes were awarded. Rounding out a most successful year were the new senior dinner and the Applied Arts picnic.

Arts and Sciences Tribunal

ARTS AND SCIENCE TRIBUNAL ROW 1—S. Chesley, L. Jacobs, M. Young, S. Brav ROW 2—S. Morni, R. Parry, W. Miller, H. Bellman

CO-ORDINATING the diverse activities of the College of Arts and Sciences is the task set before the members of the Arts and Sciences Tribunal. This governing body meets weekly in order that its various annual events, social events, and projects are effected with the utmost success.

Among the annual events which have become an integral part of the College of Arts and Sciences and are planned by the Tribunal are Orientation Day, Collegiate Day, and all elections. The Thanksgiving and Christmas open houses are two events which are designed to foster a social as well as scholastic atmosphere in the College. The Tribunal is also responsible for projects such as sponsoring the various Arts and Sciences clubs, aiding several departments financially, and promoting better relations between the students and faculty of the College.

Business Administration Tribunal

Vice-President — Richard Vogel

IN ORDER to co-ordinate student activities, the members of the College of Business Administration elected fifteen classmates to serve as tribunal members. The kick-off activity was freshman orientation. To plan an extensive welcome for new students, Tribunal worked with the other Co-op Colleges, as their freshmen were on campus a week earlier than semester students. One of the main events of the orientation program was the freshman mixer.

January was terminated by the Business Administration dance featuring Buddy Morrow's Orchestra and soloist Betty Heath. Red and black pens were given as favors to everyone who attended. Near graduation the seniors were honored at a special banquet. Later in the season an entire College picnic was given to conclude the year's activities.

Engineering Tribunal

ENGINEERING TRIBUNAL ROW 1—D Pfau, J Schickner, R Morrill, R Eckelmann, J. Palmer ROW 2—M Kocheck, J Stackert, R Leonard, W Nelson, H Pickering, W McLaughlin.

THE ENGINEERING Tribunal provided a group of varied activities for the many men and few women of the Engineering College. Freshman orientation to welcome incoming students initiated the program for the year. Other events included were the participation in the University's fall Collegiate Day, the annual formal dance, "The Engineers' Ball," presented by the College, and the student picnic given yearly which climaxed the agenda. This five year college must provide an active schedule throughout both section one and two.

Engineers usually spend most of their school day in the "Quadrangle;" consequently the Engineering Tribunal planned its activities so that the members of its college might benefit from a well-rounded co-curricular program in addition to a fine academic education.

Each year the Tribunal serves at the Presidential Tea, and holds a mother and daughter banquet. They also honor high school senior girls who are interested in the Home Economics College at the University of Cincinnati.

To introduce high school senior girls to the Home Economics College at UC, Tribunal members served as committee heads for the annual spring Open House.

One of the students on Tribunal represents the Home Economics College on the Student Council and this student gives a bi-weekly report to the members of the Home Economics Tribunal.

THE UNIVERSITY of Cincinnati is proud of the attributes and participation in campus living by the members of the College of Nursing and Health. These students on Eden Avenue have as their co-ordinating body the Nursing and Health Tribunal. This organization is concerned with students on both the academic and housing levels. In this capacity, the Tribunal has developed and provided a method of regulation called the Honor System. As one of its purposes, the Tribunal desires to have in the registrates of its college a high standard of honor, developed through participation in self-government.

In co-ordination with effective governing, the Tribunal presented an active social program. A variety show provided an outlet for student talent and two formals highlighted the social scene.

Pharmacy Tribunal

PHARMACY TRIBUNAL. ROW 1—M. Kessis, H. King, C. Koenig, R. Powell. ROW 2—A. Dratch, R. Sams, L. Fitzpatrick, J. Rosselit, G. Reaman.

President — Carolyn Koenig
Vice-President — Howard King
Secretary — Mary Kessis
Treasurer — Robert Powell

IN ITS THIRD year of existence, the Pharmacy Tribunal, governing body of the College of Pharmacy, worked hard to sponsor activities for the College. In the winter a dance was held at the Topper Club and a semi-formal dance took place in May. Early in the fall a picnic helped acquaint freshmen with their fellow pharmacy students.

Displays connected with the courses offered in the College were a part of the Pharmacy Open House, again a huge success. Cincinnati high school students were invited to encourage interest in pharmacy careers.

The twenty members of the Tribunal met every other week in the Union. An award was made at the May Honors Day Convocation to the outstanding senior in the College of Pharmacy. Socially and scholastically the Tribunal had a profitable year.

Teachers College Tribunal

TEACHERS COLLEGE TRIBUNAL. ROW 1—S. Wilson, M. Meyer, N. Everett, J. Osborn, J. Ganim. ROW 2—K. Gallenstein, L. Francis, R. Orth, P. Walls, J. Hewett.

TEACHERS College Tribunal strives to provide a formal representation of the College in Student Council, to give assistance to the departmental clubs in TC, and to furnish a means of association between students and faculty. The weekly meetings of Tribunal were presided over this year by Norma Everett.

Freshmen in Teachers College first became acquainted with Tribunal on Orientation Day when the members held open house in Annie Laws Auditorium. High school seniors were entertained in November on Collegiate Day. In the spring the Tribunal sponsored a tea for all student teachers and their co-operating teachers. As a yearly project the members raised money for TC scholarships. Teachers College Tribunal does much to benefit its college through its social and professional programs.

Orientation Board

ORIENTATION BOARD. ROW 1—R. Chalfin, B. McFarland, M. Gusweiler, J. Staeltig. ROW 2—M. Dayman, A. Baxter, L. Jacobs, P. Walls.

Chairman — Betsy McFarland

THE ORIENTATION Board was reorganized this year and instead of the former twenty-one members, the Board now consists of one representative from each the Men's Advisory System and the Junior Advisers, two members at large, Dean Johnson and Dean Bishop, and Student Council. The Board met monthly.

The purpose of the Orientation Board is to orient new students. Before school opens in the fall, camps for the new freshmen are sponsored by the YMCA and YWCA to acquaint the students with their future classmates. Orientation Week opened with a convocation in Wilson Auditorium. The new freshmen heard the band play, witnessed the spirit of the cheerleaders, listened to a double octet sing, and heard addresses by various prominent campus leaders. During the week the board sponsored a mixer in the Union lounge and a Football Dinner in the Great Hall.

Social Board

SOCIAL BOARD. ROW 1—E. Foucault, S. Wilson, J. Deister, J. Reogle. ROW 2—J. Trout, R. W. Bishop, L. M. Johnson, S. Chesley, D. Freytag.

TO CO-ORDINATE social functions on campus and to maintain high social standards and adequate social life for students is the three-fold purpose of Social Board.

Social Board passes rules, regulations, and policies for contests, competitions, and dances, and approves petitions for co-ed social functions at the weekly meetings. They also advance money, if it is needed, to all-University functions.

By maintaining a schedule of activities, Social Board can avoid conflict of social activities with University events. Scheduled dates are posted in the Union.

A cross section of UC life is represented on Social Board by Student Council, tribunals, social clubs, dormitories, and faculty. Dean Johnson and Dean Bishop are advisers to the group.

Administration

WALTER C. LANGSAM, RENTON K. BRODIE, AND RALPH C. BURSIEK ARE REPRESENTATIVE OF THE UNIVERSITY'S ADMINISTRATION.

Administration is to a university as a motor is to a mechanism; it gives impetus to and directs its functions. It is composed of more than a president and his staff; for academic deans, counseling deans, heads of university services, and their staffs are included in the directing body. Together they co-ordinate the various phases of the University life.

Walter Consuelo Langsam

President of the University

Office of the President

THE OFFICE of the President is the center of the complex administrative organization which is essential to the efficient operation of a major institution of higher learning. The Deans, department heads and many of the faculty members, and students come here with their problems, requests, and recommendations. Decisions are made concerning current matters, and policies are shaped for the future development of the University.

As is the case at most universities and colleges in the United States, two of the most challenging aspects of the present and immediate future have to do with finances and rapidly-expanding student body. The two are closely interrelated. To the sons and daughters of Old McMicken, the University must look more and more for support if it is to hold and increase the reputation which makes their diplomas take on real significance. The University looks to the class of 1957 to stand by and support Alma Mater in the years to come.

Secretary to the President

ONE OF THE most highly respected public posts in Cincinnati is that of member of the Board of Directors of the University of Cincinnati. Since UC is a municipal institution — the largest and one of the oldest in the country, it is controlled by the City of Cincinnati.

The nine members of the Board of Directors are appointed for nine-year terms by the Mayor of Cincinnati with the consent of City Council. They serve without compensation but the manifold responsibilities which they accept upon appointment require them to devote a great amount of their time to UC matters. The UC Board meets regularly the first Tuesday of each month, October through June, and holds numerous special meetings.

Renton K. Brodie is Chairman; former Judge Walter M. Shohl is Vice Chairman; Ralph C. Bursiek is Clerk; and Frank T. Purdy is Assistant Clerk. Mr. Bursiek is Vice President of UC and Dean of University Administration. Mr. Purdy is Assistant Dean of University Administration.

Office of the Vice President

NEVER GIVING a hint through an abrupt word or curt greeting that he is a top candidate for the "busiest-man-on-campus" title, genial Ralph C. Bursiek is Vice President and Dean of University Administration.

Among corollary duties are those of Clerk of the UC Board of Directors and member of the Union Board, Board of Publications, Activity Fund Trustee, and Faculty Committee on Athletics. In other words, his multiple responsibilities require him to keep his finger on just about everything that concerns the University. AS REGISTRAR, Garland Parker has general charge of the registration of students and of the supervision and control of student records. His office makes possible such vital services as transcripts, provision of class reports, and availability of IBM lists. African research is a personal interest.

Graduates

NANCY MORGAN ADDS A FINAL TOUCH BEFORE SHE, GENE MAPES, SIDNEY WILSON, AND DON ALLEN JOIN THE PROCESSION.

Graduates at last — a worn statement perhaps, but yet so descriptive of the feeling of those who have reached commencement and realize the meaning of the word. Commencement is a beginning in aims and ambitions; it looks to fulfillment and application of learning evolved through school.
To some it opens the way to further and more concentrated training.

THE CONTEMPORARY ARCHITECTURE OF THE ALMS MEMORIAL BUILDING IS APPROPRIATE FOR THE COLLEGE OF APPLIED ARTS.

Personalities

DOTTI BIDLINGMEYER. With uncompromising insistence on what she feels is right, Dotti may seem aloof and condescending. Really warm and fun-loving, her persistent humor and infectious cackle brightened many campus functions.

DON ALLEN. With profuse dignity, Don exerts manifest efficiency. As a positive person, who believes in straight forward expression of ideas and opinions, he influenced those around him with his creative ideas and candid manner.

CARYL BLOODGOOD. By combining friendliness, tact, and ability Caryl assumes a quiet kind of leadership. Inspiring confidence in others through her own poise and maturity, she will be remembered as a friend.

MARGIE BROWN. City newspapers were quick to recognize beauty and talent. Oft photographed Margie graced many sports events with her skillful manipulation of the baton and her excellent routines with the drill corps.

TED GROPHER. With great enthusiasm to be a part of University history, Ted held positions with dedicated interest. His suave and convincing manner won him many friends and disproved the theory about temperous redheads.

DICK ENGEL. With characteristic swagger Dingle strides over obstacles. A diamond in the rough, his enthusiasm is surface for a basic sincerity of purpose which is not overshadowed by his genuine enjoyment of life.

BEVERLY HALL. Bev Hall spoke softly but belying Teddy Roosevelt's words, she carried her many offices with delicate efficiency. Sagacious and mild mannered, Bev won the respect and admiration of all her classmates.

RICHARD FOLKERTH. The serious, steadfastness of Dick Folkerth is well represented by the way he has executed his many campus duties. His sternness is constantly apparent as he stands for his ideals and commitments.

J. PAUL HYDE. Pulp magazine ads have a protege in lanky Zeke Hyde who can be "the life of the party" because of his musical talent and who knows "how to win friends and influence people" with his clever sense of humor.

DAVID HILL. The quality of paramount interest in Dave's personality is the ever-ready willingness to perform any meager task with perseverance. The quiet reassurance of his loyal and amiable attitude is a welcomed trait.

SIG LAWSON. Sig's massive person and deep voice remind one of his love of order and unyielding ideas. These attributes are contrasted with the occasional homespun humor and modesty which are apparent to the campus.

ESTHER LITTMANN. An enigmatic personality, Esther is remembered as either a dogmatic opinionist or as a sincere and sensitive individual. Undebatable, however, were Esther's talents and contributions to the campus.

BETSY McFARLAND. Quiet efficiency and calculated perfection are predominant features of Betsy's personality. Paradoxically combined with these qualities is a certain lighthearted appreciation of people and life in general.

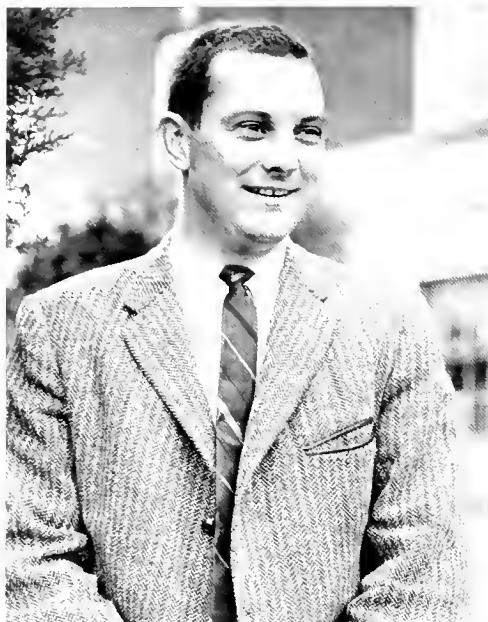

SANDRA MARNI. A wonderful sense of humor, intellectual discretion, a delightful adaptability to all situations: Sandra Marni, Sandy endowed UC with four years of brilliant achievement, academically and extra-curricularly.

BILL MICHEL. Debonair Bill personified the very essence of the collegian. His easy familiarity with habits of college students and thoughtful opinion qualifies him for the role of a "first among equals."

BETTY ANN MILLER. Feminine grace and royal poise are combined in this gracious co-ed. Her pert friendliness typified our "hello" campus and her diversified abilities were expressed through sincere enthusiasm.

DICK ORTH. Parliamentary procedure and a higher degree of order typify Dick Orth. With drive and zeal he is a campus leader who concentrated his interests on student government with improvements and progress in mind.

JANIE NABERHAUS. A youthful charm characterizes Janie, but her quiet judgment and firm adherence to principle inspire respect. A true artist, she can recognize fundamentals while still appreciating delightful non-essentials.

DOLLY TROTTMAN. With scintillating charm, graceful mannerisms, and vivaciousness, Dolly enhanced many UC activities and social functions. This often nominated co-ed may undoubtedly be called "a campus queen."

RON PERKINS. Perpetual humor, delightful wit, and a stimulating nature are meager enumerations of Ron's attributes. Campus sanction is the extrinsic proof of his talent for "funny man" antics and gags.

PHIL WHEELER. A true athlete dedicated to sportsmanship and fair play, his abilities in basketball were both inspiring and entertaining. Accompanying this talent was "Wheels'" interest in student government and social adaptability.

JERRY WRIGHT. Able to pursue a serious course, Jerry's thoughtful opinions were respected in his numerous campus activities. His consideration and respect for others distinguished him as a true southern gentleman.

SIDNEY WILSON. Reflected in the expressive eyes of Sidney Wilson, the campus discovered a compelling diplomatic personality. Sid was able to resolve problems and carry off responsibilities with remarkable aplomb.

DAVE ZUVERINK. A dynamic and steadfast character dominated by the spirit of progress molded Dave's academic life. As a recognized campus leader, he displayed tact and patience accompanied by rigorous determination.

Advertising and Index

Advertising is both an influence and a business; it is a guide to the consumer, the promoter of industry, a facet of free enterprise. Its importance has grown to the extent that it is an indispensable part of the American way of life. It may well be called an essential means of communications.

ALLAN CORS, THE CINCINNATIAN ADVERTISING MANAGER, PAUSES BEFORE THE CITY, HEART OF HIS BUSINESS TRANSACTIONS.

AFTER COLLEGE... WHAT THEN?

NOW that I've finished college, what happens next?

A JOB WITH A FLAT SALARY?

(No matter how attractive the starting pay, I want a chance to improve myself in business. Besides, I could have gotten a job at good wages without going to college.)

JOB SECURITY?

(The President of the United States once said that if security is uppermost in a man's mind, he can find it best in jail. You don't need an education to get behind bars.)

A BUSINESS OF MY OWN?

(That would be wonderful. My own boss. Make my own future. But that requires capital, and I have none. And it involves a risk I can't afford to take.)

This may sound like a dream, but it isn't. You can go into business for yourself, without capital. You can be your own boss, and you can build your own future as far as your abilities can take you. Many college graduates have done this in the Cincinnati Agency of The Union Central Life Insurance Company. We'll test you — and tell you, in advance, whether or not we believe you can be successful in this most gratifying, interesting and rewarding of all careers. Telephone or write today for an interview.

REALTORS

Every REALTOR is a business man—a good business man or he wouldn't be allowed to use the professional title of REALTOR. Naturally he's in business to make a profit but—he places service to his clients above and before profit. Service Before Profit!

A real estate man must make that pledge before he can be a REALTOR. And he lives up to it not only because the rules governing REALTORS are enforced, but because in the long run, it's a good business to practice.

A good business practice for you is to place your real estate affairs in the hands of a REALTOR, because a REALTOR must have experience, ability, integrity, and follow a golden rule code of business ethics. When you make sure your Real Estate man is a REALTOR you are making sure of complete satisfaction.

Look for REALTOR in classified ads, in the phone book and on business stationery.

Cincinnati industry on the threshold of space

Cincinnati stands firmly on the threshold of space . . . The years ahead are promising ones indeed . . . In them Man will advance his frontiers by millions of miles. In this great industrial city opportunities are unlimited

Much of Cincinnati's and Crosley's success in business and industry is due to the skill and imagination of graduates of our great municipal university . . . Avco Manufacturing Corporation's Crosley Division is proud to be part of Cincinnati's development and productive might . . . and proud of the many U.C. graduates associated with Crosley over the years.

Editor's Note

AS THE FINAL deadline draws near and the noisy machinery that puts out a yearbook gathers momentum for a final surge of energy, I lean back, close my eyes, and think of the year that is almost over. I think particularly of the many hours spent in our Union office, 101, and of the many people who devoted so much time and effort to produce these three hundred and thirty-two pages of yearbook.

At times—most of the time—there was seemingly endless work to do; the different deadlines—first photography, then engraving and printers deadlines. The last minute phone calls to make sure groups would be on time for their pictures, the double checking of idents for indexing, the stacks of copy that needed to be typed and then edited, the seniors that wanted a rescheduling of their pictures made me think the book would never be finished. It seemed as though the pile of photographs would never decrease, although we cropped and cropped and cropped.

The people who helped me put out this book received no compensation for this "labor of love;" only the satisfaction of helping produce a fine yearbook for the University. These people deserve recognition.

John P. DeCamp, Director of UC Public Relations lent us valuable photographs for the story on Dr. Blegen as well as access to files on other men in our research feature. Co-operation was paramount in our trips over campus to gather information for the administration section. The President's office, the office of the Vice President, the Deans and their secretaries—all were more than helpful. I appreciate the advisershif of L. David Wollermann, our literary counselor and Raleigh R. Sharrock, our financial adviser.

The professional men—the men who held our contracts—are, perhaps, the most unsung heros of any yearbook: Russell Benson, who gave us more than just a sales talk; John Hancock of Jahn and Ollier, who had to listen to our complaints yet never lost patience; Jack Bundy who handled our cover with his usual finesse; Powell and White, the printers of the Cineinnatian for many years; and Bill Whitteker, the man who knows all the tricks in photography. The photographs of Dr. Sabin were taken by Jerry Cornelius of the Cincinnati Enquirer.

The book went through many stages with many people. I was sure nothing more could happen—so many things had gone wrong. The editors and their staff members picked up the pieces and went on working after each crisis had been reached. Some did exceptional work, others labored long and hard—but we all pulled together as a team. Tom Dunn jumped into a vacated spot taking over the almost impossible job of assigning and writing organization copy. Sue Ransick was efficiency plus in her handling of the senior section; Jean Lea made the rounds of the deans' offices collecting information for the administration section. Evey Sanders, Sandy Marni, and Janie Naberhaus stepped into the position of special writers in the personality section. Throughout the year Blondie Bidlingmeyer kept the stacks of copy typed and ready for the printer. At the beginning of the long push Gail Schutte had the index ready to go—and on time.

On the business end, Dick Chalfin made sure we would not go bankrupt and Allan Cors sold more advertising than we had the year before.

The feature staff is working now to finish the best part of the book—for it represents the creative end of yearbook production. Helen Littmann is punching away at headlines and captions for Randall's photos, while Katie is checking over the printer's dummies. Chuck comes in at night to finish up his sports section and John, Linda, and Gayle are home for spring vacation. Es is acting shrewish and I'm finishing up my seven week problem for Mr. A.

By now it should be obvious that this book is not my own but everyone's who had some part in making it—this includes you the reader—it's yours.

Art Clark
